Craft Explodes, Sea Set Ablaze In Fierce Blast

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Eighty-four men lost their lives in terrific explosions and blazing oil when a U.S. tanker and U.S. freighter loaded with ammunition collided in the dark a few days ago off the United States east coast.

The U.S. navy department said an investigation was under way today. The department made public the news of the accident Sunday.

So tremendous were the explosions that debris was showered on the decks of a coastguard ship a quarter of a mile away.

The blast killed 66 of the 69 aboard the freighter, tore the ship to pieces and sent her to the bottom almost immediately after the collision. Eighteen of the tanker's 82 seamen perished in the flames which burned the lifeboats before they could be launched and forced those still alive to leap overboard.

The two ship, survivors said, were proceeding in opposite directions when the freighter veered suddenly and rammed her bow into the tanker's port side aft of the forecastle head.

Survivors were landed at Norfolk by coastguard and naval rescue ships.

FALL SAVES LIFE

Among the survivors was Deck Cadet W. J. Leonard, 21, of Malverne, N.Y., who was in the tanker's wheelhouse. He was knocked down by the ships' impact.

"The amidship's house was quickly ringed by flames," he related, "and a sheet of flame swept through while I was on the floor. The captain, the first, second and third mates, six navy gunners and two signalmen were in the house. I believe they were all lost."

Escaping from the amidships house, the deck cadet jumped overboard and later climbed on a life raft, carrying about 20 men. A naval ship picked them up an hour later.

"It was hotter than hades on the raft," said Leonard, who escaped with minor arm burns. "The wind kept changing, bringing the blazing oil nearer, and then blowing it away from us. I heard some men yelling as they struggled in the oil, but we could not help them."

A messman, Martin Varnell, 30, was asleep. Awakened by a shipmate, fled from his smoke-filled quarters to the deck and started toward the lifeboats, only to discover they were afire from flaming gasoline scattered by the explosion.

"I saw three men dead on the poop deck," Varnell related. "I believe they were navy gunners. One had his arms and legs blown off."

SWAM THROUGH OIL

Varnell leaped over the side and swam for more than an hour before he was rescued by a coastguard vessel whose crew told him their deck had been showered by debris which the blast had rocketed across a quarter mile of water.

Of the three survivors of the freighter two were in such serious condition they could not be questioned. The third was Edward Matagora, 20-year-old navy gunner, badly burned about the face.

From his bed in a naval hospital Matagora told a reporter how he was awakened by a shipmate, ran to the deck and leaped overboard without a lifebelt. He was rescued by a coastguard ship after swimming for two hours.

Dutch Nazi Slain

LONDON (CP)—Aneta, Netherlands news agency, reported today that Dr. Folkert E. Posthuma, 69, described as one of the most prominent Netherlands Nazis, had been shot and killed by Dutch patriots.

Posthuma was a member of the so-called "secretariat of state" of Anton Mussert, head of the National Socialist Party in Holland. He was in charge of activities in connection with agriculture and fisheries.

Posthuma was the fifth prominent Dutch Nazi attacked in recent months.

U.S. Contingent Swells Air Force in Britain

LONDON (CP)—Already few planes were on a course that would put them over the coast. The R.A.F. struck at Channel shipping and French coastal districts Sunday and Nazi fighter-bombers hit at a southeast coastal town, which the German radio said was Eastbourne.

Spitfires of a Canadian squadron hunted in pairs over northern France and damaged two locomotives.

The invasion guessing continued in London's press, with the Daily Herald declaring Gen. George C. Marshall, U.S. army chief of staff, probably would head invasion forces in the Mediterranean theatre, while a British general might direct any invasion against the northern Europe coast.

The Daily Express said the north African conferences, attended by Mr. Churchill, Gen. Marshall and Gen. Sir Alan Brooke, "put the finishing touches to the United Nations' summer campaign."

MASS ARRESTS
The invasion-conscious Germans clamped another state of emergency down on the Norwegian port of Bergen, a potential landing point, and it was disclosed that German defensive demolitions had blasted a 600-yard wide belt, with anti-tank ditches more than a mile from the sea, clear across the four miles of The Hague, Holland.

The Morocco radio reported new mass arrests of persons along the French coast who might have aided Allied invaders. A Spanish report said Gibraltar was practically bare of shipping.

Yanks Go Direct To New Zealand

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP)—Rear Admiral Theodore Wilkinson of the U.S. navy, deputy commander of the South Pacific area, disclosed today that a large body of United States troops recently had come direct to New Zealand from the United States.

They now are in training before being sent to a combat zone, he said in a broadcast.

Some troops also recently came to New Zealand after fighting at Guadalcanal. All except those suffering from malaria are training to return to combat.

Admiral Wilkinson said New Zealand had been given responsibility for defence of Tonga and Norfolk Island and a share in the defence of Fiji.

New Zealand officers are in command at both Tonga and Norfolk, he said.

No Fun By Order In Scared Italy

BERNE (AP)—Open-air players of mandolins and other musical instruments in Italy will henceforth be liable to three months' imprisonment and fines under new decrees announced as intended to impress the people with the seriousness of the war situation.

A Rome dispatch to the Basler Nachrichten said that in addition to banning the time-honored strolling players, the decree forbids wearing of bathing suits outside of bathing beaches and swimming pools.

Women are forbidden use of short skirts and may wear slacks and shorts only when bicycling, while men may not wear shorts at all, the new laws say.

2 Ministers Resign

New Crisis Reached In Argentine Revolt

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Gen. Domingo Martinez resigned today as foreign minister of Argentina's provisional government.

His resignation followed by a few hours the resignation of Gen. Arturo Rawson as head of the new government. Rawson charged Gen. Pedro Ramirez with organizing a new regime after they had failed to agree on the constitution of a cabinet.

Rawson, who ousted President Ramon S. Castillo in a coup d'etat last Friday, was to have been sworn in as President at noon today.

FAILED TO AGREE

In a brief communique, he announced that "the impossibility of reaching an agreement on the constitution of a new cabinet" had compelled him to resign "as leader of the revolutionary forces and chief of the provisional government."

At the same time Ramirez, minister of war under Castillo and slated to hold the same post under Rawson, issued a statement advising the people and the armed forces that he had assumed the powers abandoned by Rawson.

The rapid change in Argentina's confusing political situation followed by only a few hours the issuance of a decree by Rawson dissolving congress, which was to have convened tomorrow. The decree said that "at the proper time, measures will be taken for the constitution of a new congress."

Some observers expressed the opinion, however, that Rawson

French Committee Appoints Members Of New Cabinet

ALGIERS (CP)—The French Committee of National Liberation expanded itself from seven to 13 members today and assigned a number of portfolios, but failed to agree which ministries would be directly under Gen. Charles de Gaulle or Gen. Henri Giraud, political quarters reported.

French sources said the ministries would be filled as follows: Interior and Action in France—Andre Philip.

Foreign Affairs—Rene Masgill.

Armament and Supplies—Jean Monnet.

Colonies—Rene Pleven.

Information—Henri Bonnet, former League of Nations official now in Washington.

Labor—Adrian Tixier, former under-secretary of the International Labor Bureau, now reported in Washington.

Finance—Andrew Dietheim.

Economics—Maurice Couve de Murville.

Minister Without Portfolio—Gen. Alphonse Georges.

The French Committee met today amid reports that it might retain Pierre Boisson as governor of Dakar and French West Africa.

Boisson is opposed by Gen. Charles de Gaulle, who led an abortive attack against Dakar earlier in the war. Allied leaders, however, were said to be impressed with Boisson's ability.

He delivered his large, strategic territory to the Allied cause after the Anglo-American landing in North Africa.

It also was said that earlier reports that Gabriel Puaux would succeed Gen. Charles Nogues, who resigned last week as governor of French Morocco, were premature and now were doubted.

Gen. Henri Giraud, Gen. de Gaulle and Gen. George Catroux, all members of the committee, attended today a mass funeral of victims of an Axis air raid on Algiers Friday night. A large number of the dead were trapped beneath a large building and excavation of the bodies was completed Sunday night. Some victims were taken out alive.

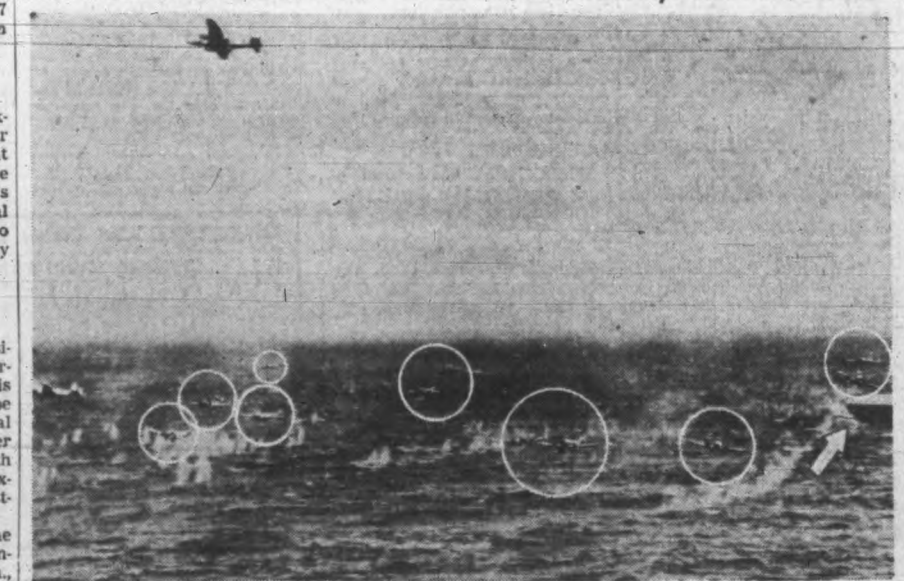

TRAITOR BAND
Marshal Petain was described as an "evangel of decadence" and Pierre Laval's Vichy government as the "traitor band" by Gen. de Gaulle and other speakers at a mass meeting of 2,000 of De Gaulle's political admirers Sunday.

The meeting was organized by the "Groupe Combat," which flourished under cover in Algiers for more than three months after the Allied landings in Africa last November.

Air Battle Over Sicilian Waters; 25 Enemy Craft Downed

Here's fast action. This picture was taken when a formation of U.S. army air force B-25 Mitchell bombers and an escort of P-38 fighters engaged an Axis air convoy of 35 planes over the Sicilian Straits and shot down 25 of the enemy ships. The enemy planes, in circles and one pointed out by arrow, are literally being riddled by machine gun and cannon fire. Note how splashes of water from shell fire of American plane at extreme left almost engulf the leading Axis plane while at top another U.S. craft circles to make another attack. Twelve enemy transports are under attack in this bird's eye view of the fight. (Telephoto).

Arms Production In U.S. Increases In All Branches

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arms production in the United States in April jumped 7 per cent over March, Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the War Production Board reported today, with "all major categories of munitions" showing gains and the total increase "something more than can be expected as an average at this stage of the program."

Although aircraft, with its related ordnance, showed the greatest dollar gain of all armaments, it still "did not quite meet the month's objectives," Nelson said. "War production during April was in better balance than at any time since Pearl Harbor."

Summarized, the April production score was:

Aircraft, up 8 per cent. Ground ordnance, up 4 per cent. Navy and army vessels, up 3 per cent. Merchant ships, up 11 per cent. Miscellaneous munitions, up 11 per cent.

A "tremendous increase" was chalked up in the manufacture of "heavy aerial bombs for Axis delivery."

Artillery output hit "a greater volume in April than is scheduled for any month this year or next."

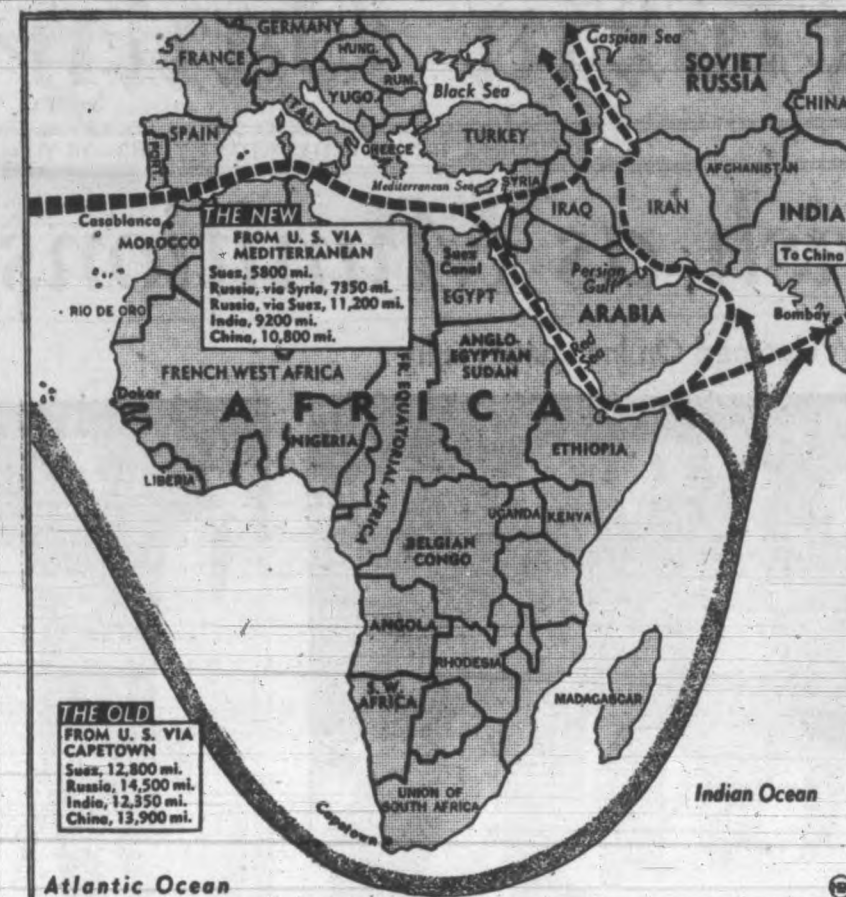

Ground signal equipment made a "spectacular advance of 22 per cent."

Accelerated delivery of destroyers contributed to a gain of 83 per cent in output of minor army and navy vessels, but Nelson warned that "still greater progress is important."

The index of war production climbed 37 points to 567, meaning that United States armaments are turning out 5.67 times the volume of goods produced in the month before the republic entered the war.

Although maximum output of airplanes will not be reached until next year, production of merchant vessels is near its peak, Nelson said.

Deliveries of major combat vessels—cruisers, battleships and carriers—declined just about as scheduled in April, and while the actual value of naval ships delivered was 3 per cent greater than in March, tonnage dropped from 186,000 tons of displacement to 157,000.

MEDITERRANEAN TRIMS MILES FROM ALLIED AID ROUTES—As Allied supply ships again sail the Mediterranean, some 5,000 miles are cut from the run to Suez and 3,000 to 7,000 miles are chopped off the route to Russia. Map contrasts old route around Africa with new supply channel. As the Allies pound Pantelleria Island from the air and sea and drive closer to invasion of Italy they are operating to decrease the menace to the Mediterranean route from Axis control of its northern shores.

42,481 New Housing Units For Overcrowded Seattle

By IRIS SMALLWOOD SEATTLE — "Extremely critical" was the phrase used by Arthur Vander Sys, director of the Wartime Housing Centre in Seattle, to describe the housing situation in this Puget Sound area. With an increase of 152,000, and a mobile population of 40,000, it is becoming almost impossible to cope with the demand for all types of housing.

People are doubled up in hotel rooms, with children existing under almost impossible conditions, and trailers have become, of necessity, an established mode of living. At almost any point on the outskirts of the city these movable dwellings can be seen in groups of from five to 20, the surrounding area decorated with washing and victory gardens.

3,000 APPLICANTS

The extensive offices of the Centre are alive with harassed but patient employees, interviewing a steady and varied stream of applicants. During a recent two-week survey, 775 family and 562 single requests were taken care of, but this is only a small part of the demand, for there is a current 30-day list of 3,000 applications to be dealt with.

In spite of superhuman efforts on the part of rental and housing authorities, the ratio at present is one and one-half applicants to one listing.

Identify Victims Of Island Crash

Identity of all four victims of the crash of a twin-engine medium aircraft of the R.A.F. at Qualicum Beach Friday was revealed today by R.A.F. officials as follows:

P.O. J. Hubert Schwab, Regina; Sgt. K. C. Huard, London, Eng.; P.O. J. H. Briggs, Bradford, Yorks; and P.O. G. H. Gould, Hungerford, Berks.

The body of P.O. Schwab has been sent to Regina for burial; funeral of the other three will be held Wednesday at 11 in Royal Oak Burial Park, full air force honors being accorded.

Search is continuing for another twin-engine medium bomber missing since Friday during an exercise flight over southern Vancouver Island. Four men were aboard the missing craft.

Chinese Drive On Hwajung To Save Rice Areas

CHUNGKING (AP)—Bombers and fighters supporting the advancing central Chinese armies on the western Hupeh front carried out widespread operations against the Japanese Sunday, a communique from United States headquarters said today.

The Chinese said their troops inflicted heavy losses on the Japanese during attacks on Chaoshih, in central Hupeh province northeast of Ichang, and on reserve columns coming up into that sector.

Recapitulating operations during the last week, the communique told of Chinese counterattacks which forced back a Japanese attempt to cross the flooded Yellow River near Shuiho, in eastern Honan province, and in southern Shansi province, four towns were said to have been recaptured in the area south of Linchuan.

Chinese dispatches meanwhile said Gen. Chiang Kai-shek's forces were battering their way toward Hwajung, a Hunan province town 100 miles southeast of the main Japanese base of Ichang. The recapture of Hwajung, north of Tungting Lake which the Japanese used as a springboard for their abortive offensive down the Yangtze valley, would greatly relieve the threat to the great China rice bowl. The peril has been diminished by threat of Japanese forces in the general direction of the right bank of the Yangtze.

Hwajung is one of the main Japanese strongholds south of the Yangtze.

Chinese troops were reported to have recovered several strategic points south of the Yangtze between Ichang and Shasi, which are 70 air miles apart.

45 Face Trial After Strike Riot

GALT, Ont. (CP)—Charged with preventing steel from entering the plant of the Shury, Dietrich, Atkins Company here, one of eight war plants involved in a strike, more than 40 strikers received summonses during the week-end to appear in court Thursday.

Two other men, one of them, Arthur Williams of Toronto, organizer of the Canadian Congress of Labor, also will appear in court on Thursday. Williams was released on $500 bail Saturday on a charge of obstructing a police officer in the performance of his duties after a melee between police and picketers at the Galt Malleable Iron Company plant. Hector A. Hall of Galt, arrested at the same time, also was freed on $500 bail.

Police charged a crowd estimated at 400 and for 15 minutes fists and stones flew, though no one was seriously hurt. The mass picket was dispersed. Provincial police previously had limited the number of pickets at the gate of any plant to six.

Sunday, J. W. Noseworthy, C.C.F. member of Parliament for South York, Ont., told a mass meeting of strikers that firms which refused to recognize unions of their employees' choice were "defying" the spirit if not the letter of the Ontario collective bargaining legislation.

752 German Planes Lost; 212 Russian In 5-Week Battle

MOSCOW (AP)—Citizens of Moscow looked forward to another significant week of aerial warfare today as they went to work reading of the Red air force's reported achievements in knocking down 752 German planes to Russian losses of 212 from May 30 through June 5.

The week's air battle brought German losses to 2,821 planes during the last five weeks, Russian dispatches said.

(The Soviet midday communique, recorded in London from a Moscow broadcast, said Russian bombers were active again Sunday night, hammering at airbases behind the Nazi lines in the Lischansk area of the Donets River front.

(A Berlin broadcast quoting DNE, German news and propaganda agency, said German bombers also were active Sunday night, again heavily raiding Gorki, important Russian armament centre on the Middle Volga east of Moscow.

If the society had pamphlets printed with their announcements of plentiful supplies for the objects of their adoration (dogs) and dropped over the countries where men, women and children are starving to death, promotion of good feeling toward the Allies would not be attained. The Russians are now anxiously asking "When do we eat?" and let us remember, if it were not for the bravery of these people that came at an opportune time for us, most of the Allied nations would now be under the tyrannical rule of the Nazis.

Yesterday the milkman distributed envelopes issued by the praiseworthy Kinsmen Club of Victoria asking for donations to buy milk for the pitiful children desperately in need of this life-giving fluid. It is to be feared that many envelopes received by the dog worshippers will remain empty, in case their dogs go short of milk!

WANTS FLAME "FANNED"

William Aberhart has passed on to a higher calling. He has left ideas with Canadians that still have to be fully developed and actively worked out.

Aberhart was very active in trying to bring people to their senses concerning the errors of our present private control of money and credit and purchasing power which should be used only for the proper distribution of goods and services to the people of Canada, and not at all for the purpose of making monetary profits and gaining political power over one's fellow men.

The light or spirit of Aberhart must not be allowed to become dimmed by any propaganda from private banking and insurance company and money monopoly circles in our midst. This spirit must be actively fanned to a flame that will destroy the present price and profit system and leave us with the shining golden age of plenty for all by the scientifically adjusted purchasing power of our nation being justly placed in the hands of every man and woman in Canada.

With proper minimum national dividend for every person, allotted by our government, which alone must have sole control of all money and credit, we will have freedom for all and plenty for all instead of the present burdensome taxation, worry and poverty and the present economic bondage to all forms of high finance rampant in our nation by permission of our deluded government.

OAK BAY'S DOGS

There is good news for the many people who are being annoyed beyond endurance by roaming dogs with filthy habits, and for those who are being kept awake by the constant howling and barking of innumerable dogs. A letter has been received, written by the Oak Bay Municipality, to a resident of Oak Bay stating that steps are going to be taken to mitigate the deplorable "dog nuisance" prevalent here.

'Be Canadians' Urges John Bracken

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP)—Canada in the days of Sir John A. Macdonald was composed of a small population but he gave it huge physical dimensions, John Bracken, national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, said to an assembly in Cataract Cemetery Sunday. "It remains for you and me to give to the nation a spirit and a soul."

This was the 52nd anniversary of the death of the first Canadian prime minister and Mr. Bracken stood beside Sir John's grave as he urged the hundreds who gathered about the plot to build a Canada worthy of the lead given by that staunch believer in the great destiny of the Dominion.

"Sir John's first consideration was Canada—no French-speaking Canada, no English-speaking Canada—but Canada, a Canadian Canada," said Mr. Bracken. "And we today must have no less high an ideal. Let us look upon all our citizens, of whatever racial extraction, as Canadians."

"Let us have less of hyphenated Canadianism. Our new citizens don't want it and we don't. In the United States they do not speak of President Roosevelt as a Dutch-American nor of Mr. Willkie as a German-American. They are Americans. Let us in Canada be Canadians."

"Sir John sought to give opportunity to enterprise. We, too, while preventing exploitation, must assure fair treatment to legitimate enterprise—whether private, co-operative or government-directed—if we are to avoid the regimentation of totalitarianism."

Giant Flying Boat Has 8 Engines

WASHINGTON (AP)—The giant experimental flying boat which Henry J. Kaiser and Howard Hughes are building on the west coast will be an all-wood craft powered by eight engines and capable of carrying 60 tons of cargo.

Officially designed as the HK-1, the flying boat will have a gross weight of 400,000 pounds. Other details: Fuel capacity, 8,000 gallons; average cruising speed, 174 miles an hour; wing spread, 320 feet; length, 218 feet.

By way of contrast, the two engine DS-3, used by the United States Air Lines and the military services, has a wing spread of 123 feet and a length, 64½ feet.

Heavy Toll Exacted Of Axis Defenders

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA (AP)—

Hitting from two directions, Allied airmen smashed rail and ferry facilities on both sides of Messina Strait at the toe of the Italian boot, and pounded Pantelleria again, Sunday, following up Saturday's smashing attack on the Italian fleet at La Spezia.

At least eight of a formation of more than 30 fighter planes which attempted to intercept heavy bombers of the Middle East command which raided San Giovanni, Reggio Calabria and Messina, were shot down and others were damaged, a Cairo communique said.

It was officially announced that "approximately 50 of our aircraft took part in the attacks" from Middle East bases and every one returned safely.

Hits were scored on railway sidings, oil installations and other terminal facilities, the communique declared.

R.A.F. fighters shot down two three-engine heavy bombers in the eastern Mediterranean Sunday, it was announced. No Allied planes were lost.

Meanwhile the constant, heavy pounding of Pantelleria island, half-way between Tunisia and Sicily on the European invasion path, continued Sunday, with new aerial onslaughts, it was announced.

(The Italian communique, broadcast by the Rome radio and recorded by the Associated Press, claimed without offering any further detail that an Allied submarine was sunk by the Italian navy in the Mediterranean.

ACKNOWLEDGE BOMBING

(The Italians also claimed their fighter planes brought down four four-engine bombers and anti-aircraft guns downed a fifth in the Allied raids on Messina, Reggio Calabria and other localities on the Messina Strait. They acknowledged further bombing of Pantelleria.

In the Pantelleria raids, the Italians asserted seven Allied planes were brought down by fighters and anti-aircraft guns. They said German fighter planes brought down two other bombers south of Sicily and a Spitfire near Lampedusa island. Three Italian planes were lost, it was said.

(Another Rome radio broadcast said 50 were killed and seven injured in the vicinity of Reggio Calabria.)

Through Saturday night, after the largest formation of heavy bombers ever sent out from north African bases smashed at the Italian fleet at La Spezia, bombers of the northwest African air force hit again at Pantelleria, and on Sunday the attack was continued by medium and fighter-bombers.

The war bulletin said eight enemy aircraft were destroyed in aerial duels during the attacks.

BAG AIR TRANSPORT

A giant Junkers-52 air transport also was shot down off Sardinia by a Beaufighter, it was announced. The Allied forces lost one plane.

Along with the concerted air and navy surface craft attacks paving the way for the day when Allied ground troops may be ferried across the 90 miles of the Sicilian strait, came official accounts of submarine action that battered Axis shipping in the area.

Listed as destroyed were an anti-submarine naval auxiliary in Augusta harbor, Sicily; two small supply ships in the strait between Corsica and Sardinia; a tanker near Monte Carlo in the Gulf of Genoa; a large supply ship near the Gulf of Policastro in south-west Italy, and a small ship in the same area.

One large supply ship torpedoed in Catania Bay was seen to be down at the stern, and another large supply ship suffered probable torpedo hits in the Gulf of Genoa, the Admiralty said.

LONG ROUND TRIP

The raid on the Italian navy in hiding at La Spezia was a 1,400-mile round trip made by the largest group of heavy bombers ever sent out from Africa. Some previous raids have been in strength of more than 100 bombers.

Allied headquarters communique said only that "hits were observed in the dock area, among warships and other shipping. There were 'large explosions and many fires.'"

Preliminary reports at headquarters showed that a large number of one-ton bombs were scattered among the battleships, huge harbor areas were blasted and set afire, a merchant ship was blown up and a large barge was sunk.

Fire and smoke blotted out the whole area quickly and headquarters was waiting for air reconnaissance photographs to tell the complete story.

The heavy bombers flew without fighter escort and all returned to base. Only three Italian fighter planes were met and anti-aircraft fire was weak and wild, returning fliers said.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DE WITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst

What justification is there for the German claim that even if the Allies invade southern Europe they will find the Axis armies unconquerable?

That assertion was made in a Berlin broadcast, picked up by the Associated Press. A commentator was discussing invasion articles in the German army organ Die Wehrmacht. He admitted the Allies might make a landing somewhere, but declared they "would not have the slightest chance in battle against the Axis continental armies with their millions of well-trained and well-equipped troops."

SIGNS OF WEAR

It is a fact—and one not to be overlooked—that the Fuehrer's most powerful weapon is in his army, although what once was the mightiest fighting machine ever put together now is showing signs of wear and tear. Its true, too, that the Allies would be up against a terrific task if they were faced with the necessity of smashing that Nazi army with land forces alone. Hitler might be able to defend himself indefinitely.

The point is that he would be sitting inside a great defensive circle. His communications would be short and he would be able to fling his forces in any direction quickly to meet attack. All his war industries would be safe inside that ring. The Allies, on the other hand, would be striking them from the outside of the huge perimeter, and their communications would be long and difficult. Such a German defensive position would be just about impregnable.

However, that's one of those destroyer, a corvette and a cargo vessel in the Bougainville area of the Solomons Saturday. The destroyer was hit by several large calibre bombs and undoubtedly sank, the communique said, and the other two vessels were set afire.

Fifteen intercepting Zero planes were reported shot down and three others damaged. Four U.S. planes are missing, the navy communique said.

Shortland Island lies south of Bougainville Island.

U.S. Planes Sink Jap Destroyer

NEW YORK (AP)—Japanese headquarters claimed in a Tokyo radio broadcast today that a Japanese naval unit shot down 20 Allied planes which attempted to raid Shortland Island, in the Solomons group, Saturday and damaged five others.

The Japanese broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, said three Japanese planes had not returned from the engagement.

Tokyo's claims were not confirmed. A United States navy communique issued Sunday, in Washington announced American planes had attacked a Japanese "might-have-been" situations. As things stand, the Allies aren't compelled to crush Hitler entirely with land troops. In fact, they can do a goodly portion of the job in a much easier way. That is by bombing.

The United Nations now can reach Hitler's communications and war industries across all parts of the circle. When they achieve their invasion of southern Europe they will add further to their facilities for reaching every Axis manufacturing centre and line of communications. Air bases in northern Italy, for instance, would be a tremendous asset.

WILL LACK ARMS

The day and night blasting which the Anglo-American and Russian air forces are administering to the Reich is stripping Hitler of his ability to keep his army "well equipped." One of these days the cumulative effect of this aerial offensive is going to hit him all of a sudden and he will find himself with a Wehrmacht which will lack the arms with which to defend itself.

Then will be the time when the Allies will send their own armies marching against the Hitlerian forces. Actually, the terrific aerial and naval bombardments which the United Nations are laying down against the enemy, as further evidenced in today's news dispatches, are the preliminaries to invasion. That is to say, the invasion operations are under way even though we can't see the exact moment of landing.

Meanwhile, with the Allies holding aerial superiority, Hitler's air force is unable to strike from within his charmed circle at the distant production centres of the United Nations. Allied strength grows daily while his decreases.

Dream Comes True

SINCE THE ESTABLISHMENT OF Trans-Canada Airlines in 1937 this capital city of British Columbia has looked forward to the day when Victoria would assume her rightful place as the western terminal for the great aerial liners. Our businessmen and citizens have patiently waited for this essential transportation development. Technical difficulties in the first place, followed by a time-lag over which this community had no control, and then the outbreak of war have combined to postpone the completion of this fine Canadian service.

On several occasions in the last year or so, of course, the airport at Patricia Bay has accommodated TCA "ships" when climatic conditions on the mainland have determined continuation of the journey to the island. But a long-cherished dream came true last night with the arrival of the first plane to inaugurate a daily schedule that establishes Trans-Canada Airlines as the longest transcontinental route of North America—giving direct connection between this city and St. John's, Newfoundland—a distance of 3,911 miles. Therefore, congratulations now are in order for Trans-Canada Airlines and all those in this community who have labored indefatigably in their emphasis on the necessity of making Victoria securely on the world's air map.

Allied Control Council

ALTHOUGH THEY WIELD NO PARTICULAR political influence, 36 Conservative members of the British House of Commons, after considerable deliberation, have approved a report urging adequate military occupation of Germany and the formation of an Allied council of control to govern many international activities. The memorandum now in the hands of the government was produced under the chairmanship of Sir John Wardlaw Milne, the Conservative member for the Kidderminster division of Worcestershire who, in the summer of 1941, charged that Britain was not working more than 75 per cent of her capacity and possibilities. This brought from the Prime Minister the famous Churchillian rejoinder:

"The handful of members can fill a people of days debate with disparaging charges against our war effort, the over-ardent or disaffected section of the press can take it up, and the whole can cry a dismal cacophonous chorus of stinking fish around the world."

Whatever may have been the basis of the controversy between the Kidderminster member and the Prime Minister—Mr. Churchill's disposal of it might be noted by some public men and newspapers in Canada—Sir John Wardlaw Milne is far from provincial in his outlook. No group under his influence, although they may be back-benchers, would be likely to attach their names to anything unless exhaustively considered. For example, here are some of the tasks it would commit to such an Allied council as it recommends:

To preserve order and carry out the immediate demobilization of Germany's armed forces.

To supervise the dismantling of the airplane industry.

To control, where necessary, the closing down of Germany's war potential, including heavy and chemical industries, to the extent to which they are the basis for the production of munitions.

To bring to trial before military courts German leaders accused of crimes against the people of the occupied lands; such courts to be "constituted by the government of the states whose nationals have been victims of crimes."

Regardless of what the United Nations may decide after the Axis states have submitted to the Casablanca terms of unconditional surrender, the recommendations of the British parliamentary group, in a general way, should be considered among the minimum exactions of the peace. Most people will agree, however, with the final suggestion.

Government Well Sustained

FEW WERE SURPRISED AT THE Churchill government's success in the by-election in the Hartlepool constituency of Durham last Thursday. Col. T. G. Greenwell carried the Conservative banner in this traditional Conservative stronghold and piled up a plurality of 5,848 over the combined total of his three opponents. Only one-third of an electorate of approximately 60,000 went to the polls.

The contest was occasioned by the death of Mr. W. G. H. Gritten, who had represented the riding since the general election of 1929, when he won a three-cornered fight with a vote of 17,271, against an aggregate of 28,185 recorded by his joint opposition, his own total being 138 more than the Liberal candidate. On that occasion 45,000 went to the polls compared with 21,000 in the recent appeal. Only in the elections of 1922 and 1923, incidentally, have the Hartlepool sent any but a Conservative to the House since the end of the first Great War.

One interesting feature of last Thursday's contest was the fact that the candidate entered by the Common Wealth Party, Miss Elaine Burton, ran second with a vote of 3,634, while trailing her was Alderman Oswald Lupton, styled "People's Candidate," with 2,351, and Mr. S. R. Hipwell, Independent Progressive, fourth, with 1,510.

It will be recalled that the Common Wealth Party attracted considerable attention to itself when it captured the Eddisbury division of Cheshire last April. The fight was a close one and the new organization's nominee had a special appeal because he had been a noted Royal Air Force pilot during the Battle of Britain. He polled 8,023 votes against the government-sponsored National Liberal of 7,537. The result in the Hartlepool, therefore, represents the fifth defeat in six bids since the Party founded by that fine patriot, Sir Richard Acland—the practical Socialist who has given much of his family fortune to the state—launched its political venture. From Thursday's result, of course, the Churchill government will extract appropriate satisfaction.

They Want To Know

BACK FROM A THREE MONTHS' journey of 18,000 miles in Turkey, Palestine, Iraq and Egypt, Sir Malcolm Robertson, M.P., chairman of the British Council, told a press conference the other day in London that in general the British troops in the places he had visited had little or no knowledge of what was happening in Britain. They wanted to know most of all about postwar plans, such as demobilization, employment, and the Beveridge Report.

In other words, British fighting men—and the same naturally applies to the men from Canada who are awaiting orders to use their "spearhead" against Germany—are more interested in the kind of world that is going to emerge after the defeat of the Axis than some public men yet understand. Some of them doubtless have in the back of their minds what happened through the '20's and during the depression years. Their fathers who fought in the first Great War are familiar with the economic chaos against which Canada struggled as one result of insufficient planning during 1914-1918.

As Mr. Drew Middleton, of the New York Times, and able Columbia broadcaster Ed. Murrow have repeatedly pointed out in recent dispatches and radio chats, the American troops in north Africa and Britain are wondering why they are not adequately informed about the underlying principles involved in this conflict—and what the future holds for them. All governments concerned, therefore, will avoid much trouble later on if they make sure the fighting men know that the dawn of peace will be accompanied by practical plans for rehabilitation.

Artillery's Role

THIS TIME THREE YEARS AGO THE world stood aghast at the speed and deadliness of the German method of waging war. What had happened months before in Poland had become almost a nightmare memory. But in the Low Countries and in France the Blitzkrieg of the tanks and the screaming devastation of the dive bombers had produced a new terror. However, as we await the long-heralded invasion of continental Europe we had better get used to the idea that, as in Napoleon's day, victory to a large extent favors the side with heavier artillery. Recent experiences in Russia and in the African desert have revealed the new technique of mobile guns moving as fast as and faster than the "traveling fortresses." These all-purpose field pieces which lend themselves to speedy assembly and provide their own platform are, indeed, tank-killers. As the Germans had developed it, of course, the steel monster was, after all, a self-propelled armored gun. But a heavier gun with equal mobility promptly smashes it.

Tanks will retain their place in a modified way. But their part in Blitzkrieg is almost finished. Fleets of them no longer meet in a head-on collision and fight it out to a finish. This method was tried out on the Russian front; it failed. Under the new technique the artillery punctures oncoming armor. The infantry moves through and clears the way for tanks to exploit the breach. In other words, massed gun fire determines the tempo for the advance of the foot soldiers who, by the way, now have their own cannon which roll along with the marching men. We are told, too, that British and American military theory and practice are concentrating on the use of artillery. It may prove a decisive factor in the coming battle of Europe. The Wehrmacht is said to be lagging in this field of development. In any event, Hitler seems to have run out of new tricks.

Evidence Of Good Faith

LOST IN THE WELTER OF NEWS devoted to the recent successful discussions between General de Gaulle and General Giraud, which have resulted in the establishment of a French Committee for National Liberation, was an item that a cheque for $15,000,000—signed by Giraud—had been transmitted to Washington in part payment for civilian lend-lease supplies sent by the United States to north Africa.

This was an important gesture on the part of the then leader of the French organization in the sphere of General Dwight Eisenhower's military operations. It is not necessary to emphasize the fact, however, that the new body presided over jointly by Giraud and de Gaulle will be unable to continue to pay for all the supplies either the United States or Great Britain will have to continue to send to various parts of the French colonial empire in the coming days. But it nevertheless will be to the advantage of the United Nations to keep the colonial civilian front strong and healthy. Food is destined to become an important political weapon in Europe as the Axis shows signs of cracking.

Edmonton's population in 1941 stood at 93,817. A census just taken by the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce shows the city's population, including Canadian and American forces, to be 131,250. That is rapid growth in any country.

NEGLECTED NEWS

TWO IMPORTANT items of news have come out of the United States in the last few days, but, since they have no human attributes and are not delivered in the oratory of a Churchill or Roosevelt, are likely to be overlooked. The first is the renewal of the Reciprocal Trade Treaty policy which has been missed by most Canadians. Except in a few places like the editorial columns to the left of this, the greatest tariff fight of recent times has been largely ignored. Happily it has been won by the internationalists of the United States Congress, which refuses to ruin the hopes of the world by repealing the President's trade expansion program.

Secondly, Fortune has polled the nation and found that over 62 per cent of it wants to give the President a fourth term if the war is not over in November, 1944. As the war can hardly be over then, at least the Pacific war, it seems apparent at this point that Mr. Roosevelt can have a fourth term if he wants it. The mind of an electorate, of course, can change, and usually does several times a week, but it would be a good sporting bet now that we shall have five more years of Roosevelt, which will be none too many if the postwar world is to be made liveable.

STARRY-EYED

NEVERTHELESS, in all these calculations there is a danger of being too starry-eyed, of making too many presumptions, of assuming too much about the future. It is the custom nowadays to build impressive air castles for the postwar period, and this can be a highly dangerous occupation. The collapse of unjustifiable and fantastic hopes turns the world to cynicism and makes any reasonable program impossible.

Thus in all postwar planning most people assume some kind of super-state, which will keep the peace. Without such an organization, of course, an enduring peace is impossible. But it is just as well now to understand the obstacles in the way of it. If we refuse to face them now, if we do not know the difficulties in advance, we shall certainly fall when we have to deal with them. To begin with, it is perfectly obvious that if a league of nations is to be effective it must have final power. The theory of the league as a kind of conciliation board, a pious debating society—the theory elaborated so cheerfully by Mr. King in Geneva before the war—was proved useless. The new league must have power and must use it.

WHAT IT MEANS

BUT IF THE LEAGUE is to maintain peace with an international police force, it is clear that power must be surrendered in large part at least by the members. They cannot maintain their own huge armies and navies and still pretend that the league has final power. The league, not the individual member, must decide when the league, and hence all its members, fight. Thus the final control over the use of armies, navies and air forces passes out of the hands of the individual country into the collective decision of the league members.

This is inevitable and obvious and was recognized in the original league covenant. But when the test came the nations said we didn't mean anything like this. We didn't take that part of the bargain seriously. We weren't playing for keeps.

This time we had better understand that we are playing for keeps and what the whole project involves. And we had better understand that this is not an ideological problem, for the Russians, who are communists, are just as likely to hesitate in this business as the Americans, who are capitalists. No one will be eager to reduce his own defences in favor of common defence. Yet it is surely clear that if we are to have a truly international police force it will be absurd to maintain as well national armies which could resist this force. The whole idea of such a force is to make it unchallengeable and irresistible.

How seldom these facts are faced! How glibly we talk of collective security, without ever stopping to consider what it involves! Those who point to the difficulties are accused of being opposed to reform. It is more respectable to throw your hat in the air and proclaim the brave new world without the remotest idea of what it means. This attitude the politicians encourage because it makes their current job easier, and they are busy anyway.

Sooner or later we have to come down out of the clouds and look at actual facts and realize that we cannot get anything for nothing. The price to be paid for peace is high but well worth paying. If we do not understand the nature of the price, peace will slip through our fingers again.

REMEMBERED SPRING

I saw the lilacs bloom long springs ago
 In quiet gardens by a sapphire sea,
 I saw the tulips and the lilies blow,
 The quickening of shrub and tree.
 And now beyond uncounted miles
 Of mountain peak and icy windswept plain,
 I know there is another spring,
 I know the lilacs bloom again.

 monie a blunder free us, and foolish notion.

The Answer to 'Where Is the Luftwaffe?'

Will We Get Social Security?

By R. J. DEACHMAN

I HAVE JUST finished reading the Report on Social Security for Canada, commonly called the Marsh Report. I had read the summaries, but the book is much better than the summaries.

It would be interesting to know how many have done the same. A Gallup Poll, recently taken, revealed the fact that most people have a rather hazy idea in regard to the whole matter. That is not in the least surprising. This, after all, is a busy world. Men, as a rule, mind their own business and it takes most of their time. Few find opportunity to consider matters of general interest—some, there are, who would not understand if they did.

It's a good document, well written and logical. Once one accepts the premises, there is an inclination to believe. That is the highest tribute to good writing. I doubt if any other person in Canada could have written a better one. There is depth of conviction in his method. He has always believed in it. The story is that it was written in two weeks. Lucid thinking and clear statements do not flow so readily even from gifted minds. Perhaps it was put on paper in that time—it was written, in the mind of Dr. Marsh, over decades.

I do not agree with it. It is contrary to things I value in life. Rightly or wrongly, I accept the idea that a coddled race will not go far. It may have been tough on Adam and Eve when they were kicked out of the Garden, but we have a thousand things today we could never have developed if the human race had still been in Eden—perhaps we would never have missed them!

NATIONAL INCOME

We do not need Social Security. There is a better and a wiser way. In the last chapter, dealing with "Financial Considerations," Dr. Marsh appears the cost. On page 117 appears this statement:

"The application of the 12½ per cent ratio to the Canadian national income as a whole would produce $1,000,000,000 or less, according as it was assumed that it will be possible to maintain present levels, or that some reduction from possibly war-inflated figures must be calculated for the first postwar years."

This assumes a national income of $8,000,000,000. On the same page appears this item:

"The national income, which averaged around $3,800,000,000 in the twenties and thirties, is nearer $8,000,000,000 today. Even if some temporary reduction is to be anticipated on the grounds that unit-costs of war goods are higher than those of peace goods, it would be reasonable to assume levels of postwar national income which are more than twice as high as those of the years of depression; 10 to 12½ per cent of these levels for social security disbursements would be a reasonable commitment."

I find it difficult to assume a real national income of anything like $8,000,000,000. The highest previous peacetime income was $4,718,000,000 in 1929. We enter a war, we spend our labor and resources in destructive effort, and come back after four, five or more years of war with, say, 10 or 12 billion of debt and the assumption by Dr. Marsh of national income $4,200,000,000 more than the average of the 1920's and 1930's. Unbelievable!

What's our past record? A brief table will show the changes:

National Income—Sample Years
1926	$4,080,000,000
1929	4,718,000,000
1933	2,632,000,000
1937	3,814,000,000
1940	4,411,000,000

If we are to run from figures like these to $8,000,000,000, then, in a financial sense, the war was a jolly good thing! Do not believe it! If we had gone on a spending spree it might have done us as much good! Is that possible? Does it seem believable that with less resources than we had in the thirties and four or five years of war we can double our income? If so, Hitler has taught us more than we ever knew and I would hate to think that, in time, we should feel grateful to that nightmarish monstrosity because he had helped us to make money.

AMERICAN EXPERIENCE

The U.S., after the last war, went forward as fast as any nation. In 1913 the national income was $35 billion, in 1929 it was $82.9 billion, then it took a nose-dive and went down to $40.1 billion in 1932—a level which was far lower than 1913 if adjusted for changes in population and cost of living. Even in 1929, in terms of goods and services, the total was far from double the level of 1913, and in the 10 years 1929-38, in terms of goods and services, it was probably below 1913. If calculated on anything like the present price level, the estimate is one never even approached in peace time.

However, Dr. Marsh believes it, he really does—with reservations which he states, quite frankly! Now let us examine this closely. In 1929 we were rather prosperous. I want to take the new Marsh estimate of $8,000,000,000 for postwar years and the 1929 income by way of comparison and see what we get with an $8,000,000,000 income, distributed on the 1929 basis.

Here is the story:

	1929	1945
Salaries and wages	$2,960,000,000	$4,320,000,000
Agricultural income	691,400,000	1,160,000,000
Investment income	548,500,000	928,000,000
Private enterprises	456,000,000	776,000,000
"All Other"	122,500,000	208,000,000
Total	$4,718,000,000	$8,000,000,000

All I have done is work out the percentage distribution of 1929 and apply it to the anticipated income of 1945, which I have assumed as one of the early post war years.

REAL PROSPERITY

If this could be brought about, what need is there for social security? It would be here for anyone who wanted it. A simple form of compulsory insurance might be adopted if we deemed it necessary. We can take care of the accidents of life and it would still leave with us the system which has been the driving power behind the progress we have made. Even a steady national income of $6,000,000,000, fairly distributed, would put the nation in pretty good shape. Dr. Marsh assumes that the enormous taxes which would have to be imposed would be equitably distributed. There is not a chance in the world that this would be done. In a democratic country it is probably impossible.

Frankly, this is what worries me: During the last few years we have ventured into a new world, and yet the thing we seek eludes us. We take the income of all the people of the nation, pass a hand over it, and say: "There is the national income. Now let us redistribute it." But I tell you it's not there! What we have before us is a national income brought about by the present distribution and if we change the percentages going to the different partners in production the income may not be there in anything like the same volume. That is, as I see it, the difficulty which will confront Dr. Marsh.

Then what should be done. My own personal belief—and it's only an expression of opinion—is that under freedom with private enterprise, we should, in a sane world, be able to develop a national income of $8,000,000,000 per annum at present price

S-t-r-e-t-c-h-i-n-g Meat

Combine meat with other foods to make delicious meat flavour stretch

Meat tastes good and is one of the essential protective foods. It is the outstanding source of proteins and a good source of vitamins of the B complex, iron, phosphorous and copper—all nutritional essentials which are not stored in the body to any great extent and must be supplied regularly by the food we eat. On top of all this, meat is 96 to 98 per cent digestible.

In these days, then, when we must be content with a smaller share of meat than that to which we have, perhaps, been accustomed, it is very important to know how to make a little meat go a long way. Here are some simple general rules:

1. Plan meals ahead so that your share is well spread over the week.
2. Know your meat cuts... get to know the cuts you haven't bothered with before. Buy wisely.

Frankly, this is what worries me: During the last few years we have ventured into a new world, and yet the thing we seek eludes us. We take the income of all the people of the nation,

Besides meat, be sure to serve each day tomatoes or citrus fruit or their juices, one other fruit, two vegetables, potatoes, cereal, bread and milk. Eggs, three or four a week.

3. Store meat safely. Remove wrapping from all fresh meat, wipe, cover loosely, store in cold place till cooking time... be careful to treat left-overs this way too.

4. Cook meat carefully. Don't overcook; use moderate, even temperatures to avoid shrinkage.

5. Don't waste meat. Save trimmings, save fats, save bones. Use left-overs for savoury hashes, croquettes, casseroles.

6. S-t-r-e-t-c-h the Savour. Combine with other foods, vegetables, bread crumbs, potatoes, rice, spaghetti, to make meat go farther. Stuff chops, bread cutlets, etc., to make one pound look like two.

"MEAT COMPLETE" is full of useful suggestions for cooking meat. Send 10¢ to Swift Canadian Co. Limited, Dept. NK21, New Westminster.

levels. I think we should first prove that possible instead of accepting it as already proven and cutting our cake on that assumption. ## Smuts Appeals To South Africans For New Mandate

CAPETOWN (CP)—Field Marshal Smuts, South African Prime Minister who led his country into the war despite stout opposition and demands for neutrality, has appealed to the people to give him and his government a new mandate to carry the war through to the end.

South Africa will go to the polls July 7 for the first time in the war, with the Prime Minister's popularity and war policy solidly established although his majority of 19 in the House of Assembly has at times been barely enough to sustain the Union's war effort. Political observers predict the coalition which he heads of the United, Dominion and Labor parties will be returned to power with an overwhelming majority.

Field Marshal Smuts has announced these three parties will not fight each other at the polls. An electoral agreement has been concluded by which each party would waive electoral privileges in constituencies held by either of the other two parties.

BIG CHANGE

Since then the swing-over to war of country districts inhabited largely by Afrikaners has grown to astonishing proportions. Afrikaners form 60 per cent of the army, but when war started it was estimated that if parliament had not endorsed Smuts' war declaration at least 50 per cent would have supported Hertzog's motion.

On the opposition benches during the last session of the Assembly the Nationalist Party, which held 47 of the 153 seats, constituted the largest party. The group, led by Dr. D. F. Malan, has been weakened considerably, however, by resignation of several prominent supporters who have publicly withdrawn antiwar views and thrown their weight behind Field Marshal Smuts.

A thinly-disguised branch of the Nazi Party, the Ossawa Brandwag, will not put any candidates in the field, but it will be active behind the scenes. At one time Ossawa Brandwag, which exploited Boer sentiment, anti-Semitism and semi-military organizations, was the most serious menace to Smuts. Its power, however, has declined as Germany's prospects of winning the war decreased.

He paddled for the Toronto Canoe Club for a number of years, at the time the club won the Canadian championship.

Blood-drunk Japs Slaughter Babies

To arouse people in Victoria to what they face in the war with the Japs across the Pacific, Duncan MacRoberts, author of a best-seller, "While China Bleeds," just returned from serving six and one-half years as a missionary in China, arrived at the Empress Hotel Saturday from Seattle, where he has been speaking to Victory Square gatherings. He will address the Civilian Protection committee's public meeting, under Mayor McGavin and Inspector Bishop at Victoria High School auditorium next Wednesday at 8. He will also speak to various church and military groups here and at Duncan and Nanaimo.

"People here do not yet appreciate the ruthlessness of the Japanese," said Mr. MacRoberts. "You don't begin to realize it, for if you did, no sacrifice would be too great to put behind the men who are over there. That's why I'm here, going around making speeches to try to arouse people to what they face."

MacRoberts has been on all six Chinese war fronts, has traveled over three-quarters of China, passing many times from Free to Occupied China. He has been through more than 300 bombings with the Chinese, brushed death six times when buildings he was in were struck by bombs and helped rescue Chinese victims during Chungking's worst raids.

JAP ATROCITIES UNBELIEVABLE

"Yes, I've seen a lot," he said. "I can tell you of the mildest things I've seen—you wouldn't print the others. The Japs are completely ruthless, lower than the lowest animals."

"I was preaching in Hongkong within hearing of Japanese soldiers. The Japs didn't like me, as they knew I taught a doctrine far different from theirs. Yet I was an American and America was not yet at war with Japan. So they dragged two members from the congregation, a man and his wife, outside to a grinning circle of soldiers, and, with matches set fire to their victims' clothing. When the clothing had burned from the jumping, screaming figures, they bayoneted the victims to death."

"And I had to stand by and watch, helpless. The Japs differ from the Chinese. The Japs delight in torture. And that is why the Chinese will never stop fighting. They know their enemy."

"At Hangkew I was out on a trip with a young Christian Chinese worker. Jap soldiers went to the young worker's home, bayoneted his mother and three sisters to death in the presence of the father and two brothers, and then made the latter dig a communal grave for all the family. Chinese villagers, at the point of bayonets, were forced to bury the three live men with the three dead women."

CHILDREN SLAUGHTERED

"I've seen the Japs burn Chinese on the streets with their live cigarette ends just for the fun of seeing them scream. I've seen blood-drunk Jap soldiers slash with swords the bodies of babies and of children, slaughtering them when they objected to seeing their mothers raped. The cruelty suffered by the Chinese people is impossible to comprehend."

"When Nanking fell, I was in Kiangsi province. I was ordered by the U.S. consul to speed for safety, to a gunboat in the Yangtze. I started out by bicycle and met on the way Nanking's millions pouring along the only highway leading into Free China."

"I saw hundreds of corpses, literally hundreds on the sides of that road. They had fled without food and the people in the villages they came to also had gone, so without food and without warm clothing they died on the roadside."

"I never did get to the Yangtze for the Jap army cut off the route to the river before we could reach it. We met the retreating armies of the Chinese provincial and central governments and retraced our route with them. From then until I returned to America, I worked with the Chinese government, helping in French-Indo-China to get supplies from Britain and America through to the Burma Road."

CHIANG PRAYS FOR HELP

"It was with the retreating armies that we saw the worst slaughter. The Chinese had always thought there was safety in numbers and would group when bombers came over. The Japs came over a part of the road, a narrow highway only wide enough for one car, every morning at 7 and every afternoon at 4. They would drop demolition bombs and then sweep over again with machine guns. I've seen a thousand men killed."

"Not half the supplies sent by Britain and the U.S. got through French Indo-China. I have seen Generalissimo Chiang pray with Duncan MacRoberts... He was there and saw the horrors.

tears on his face that England and America would send help. "China should be permitted to deal with Japan when the United Nations win. Extermination is the best disposal of all Japanese militarists—and China would do a good job on them."

Mr. MacRoberts spoke at Central Baptist Church three times Sunday and will speak again tomorrow at 3 to the Women's Missionary Society at St. John's Church and at 8 p.m. to a public meeting in the Gospel Tabernacle, Yates St., under the Victoria Christian and Missionary Alliance. On Wednesday afternoon he will open the Chinese First Aid Post at the Chinese Hospital, Herald St. He will speak at Duncan Thursday and Friday at Nanaimo to a big gathering of military men under the Soldiers' and Airmen's Christian Association.

Planes Knock Out 150 Locomotives

LONDON (CP)—R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. planes knocked out about 150 locomotives in Germany, France and the Low Countries during May in intruder patrols aimed at disrupting Hitler's over-burdened communications system, the Air Ministry announced today.

Dispatches during the month indicated the R.C.A.F. took a good part in the operations.

A large number of freight trains, signal boxes, sidings and barges also were shot up "and more or less seriously damaged," the announcement said.

The attacks were made by fighters, fighter-bombers and light bombers, some of which flew so low they came home with strands of telephone wire tangled in their under-carriages and their wings blackened by soot from chimneys.

BUSINESS enriches the NATION and YOU

Free Enterprise versus Regimentation

BUSINESS under State control and business freely cooperating with Government are two vastly different propositions. The productive powers of free enterprise among the United Nations, as opposed to regimented industry under Axis domination, are now outpacing State regimented business.

Existing plants have been converted 100% to fighting materials—equipped, toolled and manned. New plants have swung into full production. Tremendous quantities of materials now roll in train loads from the factories of freedom.

Free enterprise has put Patriotism ahead of profits... Victory ahead of every other consideration. It is enabling the United Nations to show the might of voluntary initiative as opposed to a dictated regimentation.

This Bank knows what free enterprise—both management and labour—is doing, because banks play their part in financing Canada's industries. Your savings, at the Bank of Toronto, earn interest for you... and where employed by business they also work for Victory.

Weddings

Joseph Paul Davis, R.C.N., and Rose Mary Antrobus, are shown smiling happily after their marriage Saturday evening in St. John's Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Antrobus, Beresford Road; Burnaby, B.C., and the groom is the son of Mr. J. Davis, Saltair, V.I.

Naval Padre A. M. McKittrick officiated at the ceremony and during the signing of the register. Mrs. Norman Wisdom sang "O Perfect Love."

White sheer, with a full skirt, sequin-trimmed bodice and bishop sleeves, fashioned the bride's gown, and she was given away by her father. Her floor-length veil cascaded from a halo head-dress, trimmed with pearls, and she carried a bouquet of roses, white carnations and sweet peas.

Bridesmaid was Miss Pearl Elizabeth Simmonds, wearing pink sheer, with a matching halo hat, and carrying a bouquet of pink carnations and larkspur. Little Lois Watson, niece of the bride, was flower girl, dressed in blue taffeta, with a floral hat, and carrying a basket of blossoms. AB. Alan Price, R.C.N.V.R., was best man. AB. Andrew Thompson, H.M.A.S., acted as usher.

At a reception held in the Royal Bank Building, Mrs. George White assisted the fathers of the bride and groom in receiving the guests. Mrs. N. Wisdom and Miss Gloria Willis entertained the guests with vocal solos. Going away, the bride wore a pale green tuxedo suit, beige feather hat, matching accessories, and a corsage bouquet of Tallman roses. Mr. and Mrs. Davis will make their home at 1418 Vining Street, after a honeymoon on the mainland.

flowers and candles adorned the refreshment table, which was centred with the cake, and this was cut by the bride after the customary toasts had been honored. Mr. Thwaites gave the toast to the bride, and Mr. F. S. Cunliffe, Nanaimo, to the bridegroom.

Maj. and Mrs. Sheehan will make their home at Fort Lewis, Wash., for the present.

BARR-HIQUEBRAN

Eva Hammond, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hiquebran, 520 Williams Street, became the bride Saturday evening in Victoria West United Church, of Gnr. Robert Oswald Barr, R.C.A., youngest son of Mr. D. Barr, 535 Hillside Avenue, and the late Mrs. Barr. Rev. J. C. Jackson performed the marriage against a background of red, white and blue flowers. Mrs. D. Mowat was at the organ and the vocal soloist was Mrs. H. Youson.

Wearing a gown of white satin, brocaded with lily of the valley, with a full-length veil caught to a sweetheart headpiece, the bride was given away by her father. She carried a white prayer book with streamers showered with lily of the valley held in place with a cluster of red roses. Miss Louise Bennett, the maid of honor, was in pink sheer and with a matching headpiece, and carried a spray of pink carnations and snapdragons. The junior bridesmaids, Beverly Mitchell and the groom's sister, Jacqueline Barr, wore picture frocks of turquoise blue taffeta with matching doll hats of taffeta and flowers, and carried Colonial noisettes. Mr. David Barr supported his brother, and Mr. Joseph Bryant was usher.

He brought California Redwood and everything to build his home; tents for the family and furniture to furnish the home, also provisions, as there was only one steamboat and one sailboat for freight a month.

"After some time my father decided to be a farmer and as the

Victory Gardening Helps, Too!

Anyone who has a back garden, or other access to a little patch of land, can help effectively in Canada's food production. It's a good personal economy—and good national co-operation, because it adds something to that "all-out" war effort which is so essential to victory.

And whenever you rest and relax, drink sparkling Canada Dry Ginger Ale—the nation's favourite thirst-quencher. Its lively, champagne tang re-creates flagging energy. Pure and wholesome—it is the same high quality always, everywhere.

If your dealer does not always have all three sizes on hand, we're sorry—but don't blame him. War-time conditions are responsible.

No Shrimps for Flamingos, Or Bananas for Monkeys

TORONTO—Once known as "finicky feeders," the animals in Toronto's two zoos—High Park and Riverdale—are now on war-time rations. The long-legged flamingos, that once bowed stately heads to meals of imported shrimp leftovers, are now looking even more stately on a mash of crushed, soaked wheat. Bananas are but a beautiful memory to the monkeys, who now go for raw carrots with an occasional sweet potato for treat. The bears, greedy as ever, will eat anything.

The wartime diet seems to be doing the animals a lot of good," a park commission official said today. "Naturally a lot of feeding traditions have had to go by the boards. Animals we've previously fed only with meat are now eating a certain amount of brown bread. They not only like it; it's doing them a lot of good. Imagine a 'tough guy' like the wolf eating bread."

NO ROAST BEEF

Economic feeding has almost always been the watchword among zoo experts, the official said. Although horse has long been fed to jungle denizens, the lions and tigers occasionally roared into a meal of good roast beef. "I think those days are gone forever," he remarked. "We buy boned horse meat for a few cents a pound. When we used to buy beef we had to pay for the bones as well."

Zoo animals are almost invariably healthy, so it is hard to assess the degree of improvement occasioned by the new rations, but the official says: "In the U.S. flamingos have shown up with ruddier coats than ever, due it is believed, to the war forced diet. We hope for the same improvement here."

The carnivorous go for chicken—as who wouldn't. But out at the zoos a chicken dinner consists of the heads, necks, legs and feet only, poultry dealers see to the supply.

FISH AND DANDELIONS

Fish of the cheaper, coarser type is served, as well as the residue when better fish have been filleted. The once lowly cabbage, which now retails as high as 25 cents a pound, has given way to the outer leaves of lettuce, spinach and dandelion greens. "Anyone would benefit from such a diet," the official says.

Zoo birds get the lowliest food of all—worms, ants, grubs and maggots. Some zoo keepers once believed exotic bugs from foreign lands were none too good for our finest feathered friends. But the Toronto official says: "We get just about all we want by turning over logs in the zoo grounds. Dried flies are also readily available, as are meal worms, who breed especially for our use."

Very few animals are bought and sold today, and Toronto people will see old friends at the zoos this year. "It'll be a big year," the official predicts. "Gas rationing will keep a lot of people home, and besides people seem to forget their troubles when they come to the zoo. I don't know why. But they do. Last Sunday we must have had between 20,000 and 30,000 people at the High Park zoo. So you can be sure the animals will be neither lonesome—or hungry."

Approximately 500,000,000 hens and pullets are reported in the United States this year, an increase of 14 per cent over last year.

First Lady's

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt has adopted two more wards through the Foster Parents' Plan for War Children. Paulette Le Mescau, top, 11-year-old daughter of a Fighting Frenchman, and Rosemary Hayward, 6-year-old daughter of a British seaman, are the First Lady's new wards.

The 1943 hog production in the United States should be some 20 per cent greater than last year, as the number of pigs to be farrowed this spring promises to be 24 per cent larger than the 1942 crop.

HOW TO RELIEVE PILE TORTURE QUICKLY AND EASILY

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from Modern Pharmacy and Cunningham Drug Stores—or any druggist—and use as directed. This formula which is used internally is a small, easy to take tablet, will quickly reduce the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended, and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost. If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money.

Russians Find Weaknesses Of Nazi Tiger Tanks

By WILLIAM MCGAFFIN
MOSCOW (AP)—The juggernaut "tiger" tanks, which the Germans used in the closing stages of the Tunisian battle and which later appeared on the Russian front, were characterized by Soviet experts today as clumsy, overloaded and lacking in manoeuvrability.

Red Star, Russian army organ, said these conclusions had been reached after tests of captured enemy tanks.

They were said to have been designed by German engineers to correct defects of earlier models which were lacking in armament.

The Germans gave the Tigers a thick skin, the Russians said, but they sacrificed manoeuvrability in so doing.

Tests show that the tanks—known to the Germans as the T-6—bog down easily in swampy ground.

In fighting at close quarters, the Russians said, it was found the caterpillar tracks and wheels of the Tigers were easily affected by anti-tank grenades and mines. Bottles of gasoline thrown against the tanks also proved effective, they said.

HIT ON SIDES

The stoutest armor was said to protect the front of the juggernauts. Therefore the Russians perfected a technique of letting the tanks close in until they were able to shower armor-piercing bullets on the sides and rear.

The main advantage of the Tiger was said to be its long-range gun, which permits it to sit back and fire at the Russian tanks from great distances. Since discovering that it is not adapted for close fighting, the Germans have been keeping it well to the rear except for use in occasional ambushes, the Russians said. The Tigers represent 15 per cent of the German tank production program for 1942, according to the Russians. Twenty-five per cent was said to be devoted to the production of light tanks and 60 per cent to medium models.

Newsprint Production Held Up By Strike

FORT WILLIAM (CP)—Newsprint production at the plant of the Great Lakes Paper Company Limited was at a standstill today, paper makers having refused to start the two big machines in the mill after the usual Sunday shutdown.

Confirming the strike of the paper makers, company officials were unable at the moment to estimate the number of employees affected. The company normally employs approximately 800 men. They said operations in the sulphite mill were continuing.

No statement was forthcoming from either the company or Paper Makers' Union on the reason for the strike.

British Parliamentary Party Sees McNaughton

LONDON (CP)—Five members of the House of Commons and the House of Lords who are to visit Canada soon, recently met Lt. Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, commander of the Canadian Army overseas, at his headquarters. It was announced today.

The visit was arranged so the parliamentarians could obtain a brief picture of the part being played by the Canadian army. They saw a small part of the army in training.

Winnipeg Drowning

WINNIPEG (CP)—Roger Philpot, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Philpot of Winnipeg, was drowned Saturday in a public swimming pool here. He went to the Sherbrook swimming pool with five companions and was missed sometime after he had told one of them he was going to swim to the deep end of the pool.

Catholic Church Means To Rule, Says Professor

SACKVILLE, N.B. (CP)—"Against the solid front of Catholicism, Protestantism seems weak and divided," Prof. E. M. Whidden, professor of history at Acadia University, Westville, N.S., told the maritime conference of the United Church Sunday night.

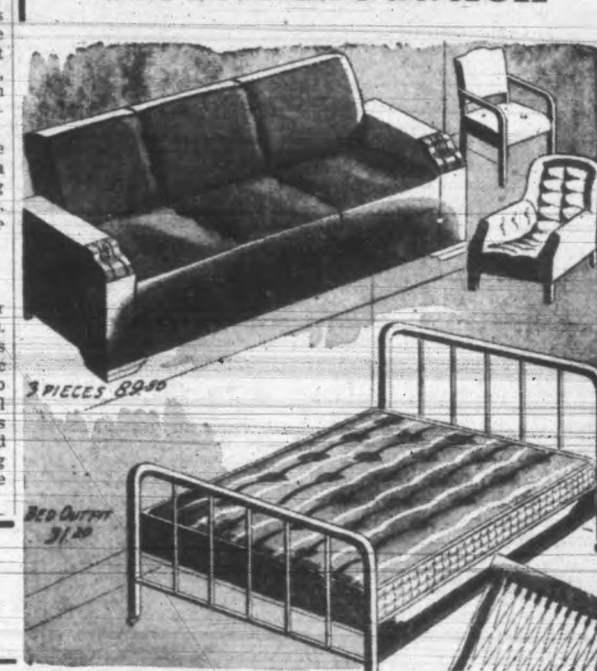

"The authoritarian swing of the last decade strengthens the Catholic position," he said. "Many are looking for authority in religion as they are in government and social planning. We must recognize the position of the Roman Catholic Church that the Protestant has no ultimate rights. The Roman Catholics do not conceal the fact that if they attain power, they will rule in their way, and the Roman Catholic Church definitely means to rule. They claim tolerance for themselves, but refuse it to others when they are in the majority. This is a fact that has to be recognized."

TORONTO (CP)—Geo. Ferguson Watson, 81, died here Sunday. His son, Wm. B. Watson, former chief of the securities department, Bank of Canada, at Ottawa, died in a hospital here a week ago.

By PETE SALLAWAY

AS ADVOCATED in this column the softballers have taken action to eliminate, as far as possible, any further tie games. In future the senior men's clubs will battle it out to a finish. We are certain this decision will receive the support of the fans. Having taken in all the games to date we have heard a lot of discussion over the no-decision results. The customers appreciate the thrilling pitching duels but they still want to see a winner. The results are a let-down and poor climax to a first-class exhibition.

By washing out the two scoreless ties between the Navy and R.C.A.F. clubs the softball officials straightened out the league standing, which finds the Victoria Machinery Depot outfit in first place. The jinx the shipbuilders have held over the Navy club has been responsible for the V.M.D. moving into command of the campaign. Three times the pair have met and on each occasion the V.M.D. have come up with a victory, the final one coming last Thursday in a wild climax. However, the first game between the two clubs has been thrown out by the league, owing to the V.M.D. using an ineligible player, and will be replayed if necessary. Expected fireworks at Friday night's session of the league failed to develop. The team delegates and league officials ironed out their problems with no trouble.

During the course of a recent interview that was recorded for the benefit of United States troops overseas, Frankie Frisch, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League, and one of the greatest ball players in the history of the game, gave out with some interesting side-lights.

Frisch was asked to relate his biggest thrill in baseball.

'Relief' Days For Major Ball Clubs

CHICAGO (AP)—K. M. Landis, commissioner of baseball, announced Friday that baseball "relief" days would be held in both major leagues June 30 and July 28, with night games or doubleheaders to be scheduled in each instance.

Landis said all receipts would go to various war relief causes, as yet undesignated, and to the baseball equipment fund.

The schedule, June 30, in the American League is Washington at Chicago, Philadelphia at St. Louis, Boston at Detroit, and New York at Cleveland, and in the National, Chicago at Boston,

"Ball players always remember base hits," continued Frank. "You never can remember a game in which you didn't hit. I guess the one which thrilled me most was hitting a double with the bases full to win the final game of the 1934 World Series. That was a great series, crammed with color and action. Old Diz—Dizzy Dean, you know—was wonder-ful."

"Who was the greatest all-around ball player you've seen?" "That's hard to say," declared the Flash, slowly. "But for aggressiveness and the will-to-win there was no one like Ross Young of the New York Giants."

Frisch was asked how he became a big league player. "I dunno," said Frisch in conversational tones. "At Fordham Prep I didn't like baseball, but only football and basketball. In college, however, I got to like it better and our coach, Arthur Devlin—he was the old Giant third baseman—persuaded me to sign with the Giants. My first time at bat I went in as a pinch-hitter and watched three curves float right past me. I was like a scared rabbit."

"Say, I was a terrible looking infielder when I started. I had small hands and I used what John McGraw called a 5-cent glove. He threw it away one day and gave me a new one. Here," he said, "this is a major-league glove." So I used it and improved a bit even though I always was what we call a chest fielder. I stopped more balls with my chest than I did with my glove. What saved me was my speed. I was fast enough to pounce on the ball and make the putout."

Well folks, that's "30" for two weeks, as the next 14 days will find us trolling the waters of Lake Cowichan for the sidekick of that eight-pound trout taken out of those waters recently.

Cincinnati at Brooklyn, St. Louis at New York, and Pittsburgh at Philadelphia. The July 28 schedule is: American, Chicago at Washington, St. Louis at Philadelphia, Cleveland at New York, and Detroit at Boston; National, Boston at Cincinnati, New York at Pittsburgh, Brooklyn at Chicago, and Philadelphia at St. Louis.

List Harness Events

GLENBORO, Man. (CP)—The first event of the Manitoba great western harness racing circuit will be staged here June 9. Among the list of outstanding horses entered are: Dr. Baker, owned by Frank Beasley of Fairdale, North Dakota, winner of six stakes on the Grand Circuit in 1941 and Hal Riggs, owned by Dr. Isman of Sintaluta, Sask., winner of nine races in 1941.

V.M.D.-Army Win

League-leading Victoria Machinery Depot and the Army came up with victories in Saturday's senior baseball play. Shipyarders turned back the R.C.A.F. 10 to 5, while the troops hit the ball in the clutch to whip the second place Navy 5 to 3.

Tonight's game at the Athletic Park, starting at 6:30, matches the Navy against the last-place Eagles. This will mark the final game of the second round.

League standing follows:
V.M.D. 7 1 875
Navy 7 4 3 571
R.C.A.F. 8 4 4 500
Army 8 1 4 300
Eagles 7 0 7 200

Home-run by first baseman Babe Work in the sixth inning with the bases loaded featured the V.M.D. win. With every base occupied the hard-hitting Work clouted a long smash into deep left field, and when the ball became lost in the long grass it went for a homer. Clubs were tied 4 to 4 at the time.

Jack Coghlin, 135-pound right-hander, worked for the V.M.D. and held the Flyers to nine hits, while he struck out four and walked a pair. Jerry Ray, number one hurler in the R.C.A.F. camp, worked the nine innings, but showed a streak of wildness. In addition to three wild pitches he hit two batters and walked three. Ray gave up eight hits.

McDonald, Flyers' centre fielder, smacked the ball over the centre field fence for a home run in the fifth. The bases were empty at the time. Flyers had a bad night in the field with six errors scored against them.

Pushing three runs across in the sixth to break a 1 to 1 tie the Army registered their first win of the season over the blue-jackets. Troops added one more in the eighth and cut short a Navy rally in the ninth, when the Jack Tars pushed two runners home.

Bill Prior and Jerry Whitney handled the pitching for the Army, with the latter taking over in the ninth. Prior and Whitney gave up nine hits, while the Army collected eight from Lefty Pawluk and Johnny Sears.

Nick Metz got four for five to lead the hitters.

Short scores follow:
Navy 3 R. H. E.
Army 5 8 2
Batteries—Pawluk, Sears and Berringer; Prior, Whitney and Sawchuk.
R.C.A.F. 5 9 6
V.M.D. 10 8 1
Batteries—Ray and Switch; Coghlin and Harvey.

Albion Take Navy

Bowlers dominated play Saturday in the cricket fixture between Albions and the Navy with the civilian eleven taking the fixture by 10 runs at Beacon Hill.

Freeman and Bossum accounted for Navy bats for only 12 runs, seven of them by Gunn. The sailors were scarcely less successful in the delivery. Bales taking eight wickets for 11 runs and Jackson two for a like total. Extras carried the Albions up to 24 runs.

At Oak Bay Park fathers and friends were slightly too strong for their sons in a family fixture for St. Michael's School. The elders put on 78 and declared, with one batsman not out and two leaving the crease with their tails still on. E. P. Gillespie, captain of the squad, put on 32 before retiring. The boys replied with 77. H. Bridgman putting on 12 before he was bowled by Gillespie.

Cards Held To Tie in Short Game

Brooklyn Dodgers are out of first place and in a dither. The club which led the National League from the start of the season until the week-end, when it slipped into the shadow of St. Louis Cardinals, is afflicted with a malady known as acute sensitivity of the shortstop.

In recent days Arky Vaughan, rookie Boyd Bartley and reserve catcher Bob Bragan have been in and out of the job. Sunday the Dodgers managed to beat the Chicago Cubs 4 to 3 in the first game of a doubleheader, but were shellacked 11 to 5 in the nightcap and misadventures by Bartley and Bragan, sharing the shortstop role, set up situations which enabled the Cubs to score eight of their 11 runs. They clustered five tallies in the fourth inning and four in the sixth.

Meanwhile weather limited the Cardinals' games with the Phillies to five innings and a 1 to 1 tie. Their second game was postponed, leaving the Redbirds a half game on top of the senior circuit.

Weather also forced postponement of Boston Braves' second game at Cincinnati, but the two teams got in a 14-inning opener which the Reds finally won 4 to 3 on Eddie Miller's single with the bases loaded.

In the other National League action Pittsburgh made 25 runs to the New York Giants' one in sweeping a doubleheader 18 to 1 and 7 to 0. Bob Klumper pitched five-hit ball behind the Bucs' 18-hit barrage in the first game and Jack Hallett followed with a four-hit shutout.

YANKS WIN PAIR

New York Yankees preserved their margin in front of the American League with a pair of victories over St. Louis Browns 2 to 1 in 11 innings and 10 to 6. The first game, which was St. Louis seventh-overtime tussle, was a duel between pitchers Al Hollingsworth and Atley Donald, and was decided on three singles in the 11th.

Two home runs by John Lindell and one by Nick Etten, who together drove in eight runs, easily took the nightcap.

Washington's second place Senators, a game behind New York, won twice from Detroit, 5 to 1 and 8 to 4. In the afterpiece Mickey Vernon hit a triple, double and two singles and stole two bases, reaching home once on a double steal.

Boston's Red Sox nosed out Chicago twice 4 to 3 and 3 to 2 with ninth-inning rallies and Cleveland adding a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Athletics. The A's won the first game 12-5 and then were shut out 5-0 in the second as John Salverson pitched four-hit ball and also notched one of Cleveland's three homers.

COAST LEAGUE
Portland strengthened its contending position for a bid for the first division in the Coast League by defeating Oakland twice in Sunday's doubleheader, 3 to 2 and 5 to 1. Coupled with Saturday's split in which the Beavers lost the first game 1 to 2 and won the second 5 to 0, the wins were enough to push Portland past Hollywood and into fifth place.

Seattle lost its series with Hollywood winning only three out of seven games, but nevertheless moved out of the cellar as Los Angeles hung four week-end defeats on Sacramento, now in the cellar.

Hollywood won the 10-inning opener 4 to 3 on a homer by pinch-hitter Jim Hill with one aboard. The Rainiers took the short nightcap 7 to 6. The Stars won Saturday, 4 to 1.

In one of the prettiest comebacks of the season Los Angeles swept four games from Sacramento. The Solons were blanked twice Sunday, 1 to 0 and 8 to 0.

Malcolm Hodgins and Bill Dunlop tied for intermediate honors and Bill Patey won the junior laurels from John Biddle by a single point.

In addition to the senior championship, Murray won the Far-saeu Cup for the senior 100 yards sprint, while the Pitts Cup for under 12 was taken by Dudley Dawe.

Coast League Founder Dies

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Michael Angelo Fisher, 81, who as owner of the Sacramento club was a founder of the Pacific Coast Baseball League, died Sunday after an illness of two weeks, and in the first game Saturday 6 to 0. They managed to score three runs in the second game but they were insignificant beside the Angels 13-run avalanche.

The Angel comeback was disheartening for San Francisco, in second place. The Seals won three out of four week-end contests and still found themselves 6½ games behind the leaders. They defeated San Diego twice Sunday, 3 to 1 and 5 to 2, and split a double bill Saturday by identical scores, 3 to 2.

Count Sets Record

NEW YORK (AP)—Count Fleet won the Belmont Stakes and the Triple Crown Saturday and the other two horses in the race were practically out of sight when it happened.

Topping off her Kentucky Derby and Preakness romps, Mrs. John D. Hertz's horse, whizzed to a 30-length win this time in the 75th running of Belmont's ancient classic for three-year-olds to become the sixth Triple Crown winner.

He carried two new records with him. One of these was his time of 2:28.15 for the mile and a half gallop which wiped out War Admiral's record of 2:28.35 for the Belmont Stakes, although falling three-fifths of a second short of the track and North American mark Bollingbroke set for the distance last fall.

The other standard concerned the amount bet on the one horse in one race in New York state. A comparatively scanty turnout of 19,190 cash customers sent $249,516 into the mutuels on him, thereby smashing the previous high of $196,192 tossed into the iron men on the Count in the Wood Memorial at Jamaica in April.

Saturday's betting resulted in a "minus pool" on the race and the track had to shell out $15,921.02 from its own pocket in order to pay off the winners at the legal minimum of $2.10 for $2.

Whirlaway was to have made his 1943 debut in the Henry of Navarre Handicap, but he came up with a tummy-ache and was scratched.

Mrs. T. D. Grimes' With Regards won this one at $14 for $2, and the third part of the triple-header program, the National Stallion Stakes for two-year-olds, Henry Lustig's $2,300 yearling bargain, Mrs. Ames, squeaked through to a victory worth $12,320.

'Spangled Rhythm' Still at Atlas

Once in a blue moon a screen star gets an opportunity to play himself in a picture and fans usually get as big a kick out of it as does the star himself. Paramount's hit musical comedy, "Star Spangled Rhythm," held over at the Atlas Theatre, has fans doing figurative handstands, for there are more than three dozen stars doing self-portrayals!

Among the stars who are themselves you'll see Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Fred MacMurray, Franchot Tone, Ray Milland, Dorothy Lamour, Paulette Goddard, Vera Zorina, Mary Martin, Dick Powell, Veronica Lake, Alan Ladd, Rochester, William Bendix, Jerry Colonna and many others.

"ARYAN" TYPES—The Nazi state approves the marriage—or the parenthood without marriage—of Tim Holt and Bonita Granville, in the roles they play in RKO Radio's powerful "Hitler's Children," now at the Capitol Theatre.

Boyer, Hayworth In Fabulous Film

"Tales of Manhattan" is a cinema achievement of rare distinction. It has enough stars and thrills and suspense and laughter for ten pictures. It is a fabulous entertainment. Heretofore we were more than content to have, say, Charles Boyer and Rita Hayworth, in a photoplay. But now 20th Century-Fox comes along with an unbelievably generous film that is calculated to spoil film fans for some time to come.

All of these are in the picture at the Rio Theatre—Boyer and Miss Hayworth, Ginger Rogers, Henry Fonda, Charles Laughton, Edward G. Robinson, Paul Robeson, Ethel Waters, and "Rochester."

BARBARA STANWYCK, starring in "Meet John Doe," now playing at the York Theatre.

Gary Cooper Stars In Capra Picture

Arrangements have been completed by the management of the York Theatre for the showing of the Frank Capra production starring Gary Cooper and Barbara Stanwyck, "Meet John Doe." The eagerly awaited film will begin its local run today.

John Doe, the forgotten man, the essence of anonymity throughout the ages, he is the hero, in fact he plays the title role, of the new Frank Capra production. Gary Cooper, one of Capra's favorite actors, was chosen to play the title role.

There is an expressed chal-

'Hitler's Children' On Capitol Screen

In RKO Radio's drama, "Hitler's Children," an adaptation of Gregor Ziemer's dynamic book, "Education for Death," there are no Germans among the principals.

Furthermore, none of the actors has a family in Germany that might suffer from reprisals for his actions on the screen. Consequently, when Director Edward Dmytryk put sting into sequences dealing with the treatment of women who held non-Nazi political views, the encouragement of motherhood for Hitler, the torturing of children, the whipping of women and the stamping out of religion, he was not hindered by fears for the actors.

Says Dmytryk, "We are presenting a true picture of Nazi Germany as seen by Gregory Ziemer and described in his book. It is not a pretty picture, but it is a gripping and real one."

Featured in "Hitler's Children," now being shown at the Capitol Theatre, are Tim Holt, Bonita Granville, Kent Smith, Otto Kruger and H. B. Warner.

Block Salvage Plan Starts Next Saturday

Victoria Branch of the Salvage Corps of B.C. will inaugurate the block system for collecting salvage, starting next Saturday in Victoria West district.

This system has been operated successfully in Winnipeg and other cities of the Dominion, and is a plan whereby zones are worked out on a population basis with approximately 1,000 homes within the area, headed by block captains.

Mrs. A. Mawer of Selkirk Parents' Teachers' Association will direct the campaign through the Victoria West zone which will be bounded by Dominion Road and Arm Street, and the shoreline.

Pamphlets will be distributed among homeowners giving a brief outline of why salvage is so necessary, what type of material is salvageable, and how it should be salvaged.

Persons living in Victoria West are urged to collect all fats, glass bottles, rags, cardboard boxes, papers and metals, and stack them neatly on sidewalks or in easily accessible yards. Among the materials which are not usable the Salvage Corps lists tin cans, wax and cellophane paper, broken crockery, galvanized iron and sheet metal.

Everything else is needed in the war effort, and Victoria citizens are requested to co-operate fully to maintain the excellent reputation of the Victoria branch.

Plans for organizing the block system in Esquimalt are already under way, and later other parts of the city will be zoned for permanent pick-ups by salvage trucks.

Premier Says Education Costs Must Remain Same Until Peace Comes

Any important changes in the cost of education in this province will be considered immediately after the war, Premier John Hart today told the annual conference of the Municipal Officers' Association of British Columbia, which opened a two-day conference at Parliament Buildings.

Such changes will of necessity have to wait until peace comes, the Premier said, because of present wartime financial arrangements entered into between the provinces and the Dominion.

"Our financing at present would not justify any important changes," the Premier said. Mr. Hart discussed problems peculiar to government and the municipalities and expressed willingness to help the municipalities in any possible way.

Alderman Percy George, representing Mayor McGavin, who is en route home from Ottawa, welcomed the delegates to Victoria. E. H. Bridgman, deputy minister of municipal affairs, representing the minister, Hon. A. Wells Gray, wished the conference success.

Mr. Bridgman will later lead a discussion of the Municipal Act.

A. Sutter, deputy minister of municipal affairs for Alberta, spoke. Norman Baker, B.C. superintendent of education, spoke on superannuation matters as they affect municipalities.

This afternoon's speakers are R. M. Brown, regional wood fuel controller; E. W. Griffith, assistant provincial secretary, speaking on medical services, and R. E. Blandy, municipal treasurer of Oak Bay, speaking on assessment matters.

Representing Victoria City at the conference are D. A. MacDonald, city comptroller; F. L. Shaw, city solicitor; E. G. Snowden, city welfare officer; John Baxter, mayor's secretary, and M. Frank Hunter, city clerk.

The conference will close tomorrow night with an official government banquet at the Empress Hotel, Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Municipal Affairs, acting as host.

Detectives Henry Jarvis and George Clayards investigating further found a second houseboat, occupied by Indians, had also been entered but nothing was missing.

Davis Will Check Unreturned Forms
A check-up of forms which have not yet been returned in the compulsory housing survey being conducted in Victoria will commence tomorrow, L. S. Davis, assistant to the Real Property Administration, Ottawa, stated today.

Householders who have failed to return their forms will be visited by a canvasser within the next few days, he stated, adding that they would be penalties for those who refuse to fill out forms.

Pleading guilty of keeping a gaming house at 642 Johnson Street, Walter H. Rogers today was fined $50. Four slot machines were confiscated, along with their contents.

Sun and Rain Both Above Normal for May

Victoria had 280 hours of sunshine during the month of May, with the temperature climbing to 66 degrees May 24, warmest day of the month, according to figures released by the Dominion Meteorological Observatory, today.

Hours of sunshine were seven above normal and precipitation which was 1.05 for the month was .09 above normal.

Coldest day of the month was May 10 when the temperature dropped to 39 degrees. Mean temperature was 52 degrees, one degree below normal and minimum temperature on grass was 34 degrees on the 10th.

Precipitation for the year up to the end of May was 9.64 in., 2.19 ins. below normal.

Trade Research Being Extended

A plan for extension of industrial research, utilizing U.B.C. facilities, which have already been put to important use by the B.C. War Metals Research Board, has been started by the government, Hon. E. C. Carson, Minister of Mines, Trade and Industry, said today.

The trade and industry department will be associated with the work of the metals research board and will make a definite contribution to the extension of the research program contemplated by it.

A special grant of $2,500 from the trade and industry department, added to the $5,000 from the mines department and $5,000 from the Dominion government will bring the aggregate sum available for the operation of the research department to $12,500. This sum will be supplemented by revenue from other sources, Mr. Carson said.

"It is now planned to extend activities and establish the nucleus of a permanent organization for industrial research in the province that may be widened in its scope as opportunity presents itself," the minister announced. "Industries will now have facilities at their disposal for a solution of many problems now confronting them, while an opportunity will be given for research workers to develop by-products from waste material and to find new uses for natural resources, not only in the field of mining but forestry, agriculture and fisheries as well. The work has been so devised that all duplication, both by industry and governmental departments will be avoided, while the fullest co-operation will be established with existing or contemplated facilities in industry itself."

In view of these developments, R. S. O'Meara, trade commissioner with the department, has been named a new director of the research board, of which J. N. Finlayson, dean of the applied science faculty and head of the U.B.C. civil engineering department, is chairman. The mines department is represented on the board by deputy minister J. F. Walker, while J. M. Cummings of the mines department is attached to the technical staff.

Co-operating with U.B.C., the mining industry and the Dominion metals controller, the mines department more than a year ago established the B.C. war metals research board. Since its inception it has made an important contribution to the nation's war effort and B.C. industry is solving metallurgical problems such as presented by the Emerald tungsten ore, the production of molybdenite, tin, mercury and in working out solutions to strategic mineral ore dressing problems.

Price May Delay Potato Shipments
NANAIMO (CP) — Associated Potato Growers of Vancouver Island Advisory Board, meeting here Sunday, expressed the belief the ceiling fixed for new potato prices would have the effect of delaying shipments to market for a few days as growers probably would wait for the tubers to grow heavier.

The Advisory Board decided to clear up certain "ambiguities" of the order at the meeting of the Coast Vegetable Marketing Board in Vancouver today.

Officers elected were: President, Harold Adshad, Ladysmith; Arthur Smith, Courtenay; vice-president, Raymond W. Pinnett will be reappointed secretary.

Reid Wardens to Hear Duncan McRoberts
Duncan McRoberts, who for several years fought with the Chinese army against the invading Japanese, will address ARP workers of Victoria at Victoria High School at 8 Wednesday evening.

Capt. E. D. W. Leven, Sanich ARP controller, today urged Sanich ARP personnel to hear this address.

Exhibition Prints In Art Display Show Marked Talent

Cose to 100 photographic prints hung in the Art Gallery of David Spencer Ltd. by the ambitious and artistically-inclined members of the Victoria Photographic Association form a cross section of the work done during the winter months.

Indicative of the growing interest in photography, due perhaps to the curtailment of other hobbies from war necessity, the display, which may be seen for a full week, contains a variety of subjects handled in many different ways.

The use of sepia tones in some of the studies by Al Woods—an excellent floral arrangement named "Flower Form," and an alive and glowing picture of youngsters touched by "Spring Fever"—offers nice contrast to the more conventional black and white studies of most contributors.

An air of desolation was admirably captured in the narrative picture "Train's Gone," by H. Y. Whittaker, who also hung an interesting picture of the eaves of a house festooned with gleaming icicles, named "Winter Decoration."

CHILD STUDIES

Hester Wilkinson is well known in Victoria for her child studies, and may number among her most appealing, "Fireside Dreams," which conveys the reverie-like quality of the title into the texture and finish of the picture.

Crisp brilliance of a winter morning and the vigorous freedom of the skier is framed in Patience Birley's "Marcia," in which she effected excellent chiaroscuro in the snowy background.

The familiar signature "Ken" marked many of the best prints, including the graphic picture of Myfanwy Spencer Campbell at the easel of her painting of Mrs. Gertrude Huntly Green. This picture is a winner both for its interesting and attractive subject-matter and for its technical finish.

No name is signed to "Woodland Wanderer," a clever photograph of footprints in the snow, and several exhibition pictures bear merely the initials G.J.A., E.B.S. or M.P. Among these, two hand studies by G.J.A. are outstanding—man's hands at the piano, and a woman's at the typewriter, which Mr. G.J.A. titles "Dear Sir."

A few still life pictures and studies whose emphasis is on the technique of developing and finishing rather than choice of subject round up the series, which includes works of all the active professional and amateur photographers in the city, among them Leonard Holmes, Colby, W. H. Squires, H. G. Cox, Kay, J. C. Hawkes and Irvine Dawson.

Seeks Advice On Fuel
Requests for information regarding what steps the City Council is taking to provide fuel for pensioners and indigents during the coming winter was asked today in a letter from the Vancouver Island Joint Labor Conference.

"We realize the very serious shortage of fuel facing the city during next winter, and have as a committee taken some steps to provide ways and means to those able to cut their own fuel of securing a supply," George T. Greenwell, secretary of the conference fuel committee said. "We are interested in discovering some means of adding to the supply of those not so able."

Football Useful For Boys Overseas

NEW YORK (AP)—The other day Col. Dick Hanley of the United States marines, former big time college coach, told the Washington Touchdown Club that the only good reason for football is that it helps entertain the boys overseas. "If football coaches want to do a real service," said Dick, they can take the kids who never have played football and toughen 'em up. Fellows who have played the game don't need that extra training. Of course, you might argue, that's just what they do. If there wasn't any football there wouldn't be that group which is ahead of the rest in physical condition, even though the footballers represent less than 1 per cent of the men in the armed forces.

Bill Bennings of the Washington Post tells this one about Jack Meier, owner of a horse named Air transport history was made here Sunday night.

Arrival of the first Lockheed Lodestar right on schedule at 11.25 established Victoria as a key point and western terminus of TCA's transcontinental system.

Aboard the first plane was Robert W. Mayhew, M.P., who had breakfast in the Chateau Laurier in Ottawa at 8 Sunday morning and after spanning the entire continent reached this city the same night.

Welcoming committee at the airport was headed by Acting-mayor Archie Wills, and included with him were: J. V. Johnson, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce; Maj. R. H. B. Ker, of the Chamber of Commerce aviation committee, and C. Hamilton Harmon, vice-president.

Importance of the new service was recognized by the city at a civic luncheon held at 12.30 today at the Empress Hotel, attended by Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward, Premier John Hart, representatives of the three armed services, members of the city council, and public officials.

VICTORIA'S AIR FUTURE
Trend of opinion among those who participated in the ceremonies marking the inauguration of the new air service today pointed to Victoria's future in the air development.

Air-minded people envisioned this farthest-west city of Canada as one of the most important key points in the postwar era of global flying.

Predictions were freely broadcast that this city, strategically located as it is, will become the pivotal point of western Canadian operations in the aerial developments of the future.

It is generally known that TCA has been giving consideration to and undertaking research in connection with plans for oceanic and international flying as a post-war development.

Canada occupies a particularly important position in the future of the air world. Shortest routes between North America and Europe and Asia cross the Dominion and the weather conditions are most stable.

Extension of the company's service to the Yukon Territory and Alaska, considered for some time, has been deferred only by the war.

Victoria's member of Parliament has long recognized the possibilities of air transport development.

"To me," said Mr. Mayhew following his arrival by the first TCA plane, "the inauguration of this service means more than planes flying east and west. We've got to visualize this air development from its broadest aspect. We have to look at it as from a penthouse and from every direction. The commercial map of the world will change greatly after the war is over, particularly in Canada, and Trans-Canada Airways is going to play a big part in this development."

Mr. Mayhew brought with him congratulatory messages to Victoria from Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King, H. J. Symington, K.C., president of Trans-Canada Airlines, Montreal; Mayor Florentino LaGuardia of New York; G. B. Isnor, M.P. for Halifax; and the mayors of Montreal, Ottawa, Sydney, N.S.; Halifax, N.S.; Moncton, N.B.; Saint John, N.B.; St. John's, Newfoundland; Toronto, London, Ont.; Windsor, Ont.; Hamilton, Ont.; Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, Lethbridge, Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver.

AT GOVERNMENT HOUSE
Luncheon guests today, besides Lieutenant-Governor Woodward and Premier Hart, included members of the city council, W. T. Straith, M.L.A., Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., Reeve E. C. Warren, Saanich; Reeve Alex Lockley, Esquimalt; Reeve W. L. Woodhouse, Oak Bay; G. H. Stevens, representing the Victoria Clearing House; Capt. R. W. Murray, manager of the B.C. Coast Service; Russ J. Burland, C.P.R. general agent; Charles F. Earle, C.N.R. district passenger agent; George H. Gardiner, postmaster; Gerald A. Yardley, collector of customs; Canadian Legion council representatives; representatives of the Navy, Army and Air Force service clubs, and editors of local newspapers. Acting Mayor Wills presided at the luncheon.

During the forenoon the visiting air party was entertained at an informal reception at Government House.

Fast Schedule By TCA Planes

Under TCA schedule effective today, planes No. 1 and 3 from eastern Canada will arrive here at 11.25 a.m. and 11.25 p.m., daily.

Eastbound planes No. 2 and 4 will depart from Victoria airport at 1.30 a.m. and 4.15 p.m. Actual flying time, including stops enroute, between Montreal and Victoria is 18 hours 25 minutes; from New York 20 hours 30 minutes.

Mail leaving Montreal one morning will be delivered in Victoria by the first delivery the next morning, while mail posted on the Atlantic coast by early afternoon should be delivered in this city the following afternoon.

Tabellarius, who, says Bill, "has done about everything around the track but run fast." The other day after the nag ran last, Meier decided to retire as a horse owner and offered to sell Bennings all his equipment. "One bed, $15; two blankets, $5," etc., right down to "one sack of oats, $3.65; and a shank, $1."

"That totals $47.65 and I'll throw in a tub and a bucket," Jack offered. "But what will you take for the horse?" Bill asked. "Oh," Meier explained, "Tabellarius goes with the shank."

E. A. Calwell receiving the first airmail from servicemen of the main liner.

Acting Mayor Archie Wills receiving messages of greeting from Robert W. Mayhew, M.P. Mrs. Mayhew, smiling, welcomed her husband at the airport.

Amazing Development Of TCA in 6 Years

During the six years Trans-Canada Airlines has been in existence phenomenal development has been seen in airborne carriage of passengers, airmail and air express.

Revenue passengers carried by TCA in 1942 numbered 104,446 as compared with 85,154 in 1941, an increase of 23 per cent. Average passenger journey was 551 miles. Revenue per passenger was $29.35 and per passenger mile 5.32 cents.

A total of 2,308,812 pounds of airmail were carried during 1942 in comparison with 1,389,614 pounds the previous year, an increase of 66 per cent.

The average mail load per mile increased from 230 pounds in 1941 to 321 pounds in 1942, which is higher than the average loading on United States domestic air lines.

Revenue of TCA did not increase proportionately for the reason that payments to the company for transport of air mails are based not on poundage but on plane miles flown in mail service.

Air express also shows a marked increase with 362,837 pounds carried in 1942 as compared with 173,192 pounds in 1941.

GROWTH OF PERSONNEL

Total personnel of TCA at the end of 1942 was 1,662, of whom 464, or approximately 30 per cent, were women. Over 100 captains and first officers are employed by TCA, all of whom have met the exacting tests required of them by the company.

Training of personnel for the various branches is carried on continuously by TCA, embracing shop force and flight crews, radio technicians, airport and station staffs, traffic representatives and stewards.

TCA is, in great measure, a Canadian civilian university of the air. The policy of employing women and ex-service men has proved very satisfactory and is being continued. Among the various activities in which women are now employed with the company are those of agents, chauffeurs, cargo handlers, radio operators, stock-keepers and workers in the mechanical shops.

7,688,902 MILES FLOWN

Miles flown by TCA planes during 1942 totaled 7,688,902. Scheduled miles for the company's aircraft were 22,679 per day.

TCA was incorporated by act of Parliament in the spring of 1937, according to H. J. Symington, K.C., its president. It grew out of the need for a swift, modern system of transportation between communities scattered across an area of more than 3,000 miles, out of a vision of a more closely integrated nation playing an increasingly important part in the affairs of the world.

In 1938, when the first limited mail and express service across Canada began operations, revenue miles flown amounted to 1,122,179. On the basis of operations today the revenue miles flown are in excess of 8,250,000 annually.

AIRMAIL VOLUME

Airmail volume was six times greater in 1942 than in 1938; air express was nearly 50 times greater; and more than 50 times as many passengers were carried.

TCA now provides two transcontinental round trips daily between Halifax and Victoria, two round trips between Moncton, Sydney and Newfoundland, two between Toronto and New York, two between Toronto, London and Windsor, connecting Chicago; two between Lethbridge, Calgary and Edmonton, and additional trips between Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal, Moncton and Halifax.

BEGAN WITH 71 EMPLOYEES

Here is some interesting data on TCA since the service was first established.

Early in 1938, TCA had 71 employees and five Lockheed Electras, carrying 10 passengers each, a pilot and co-pilot.

By December of that year the staff had increased to 332 and nine Lockheed Fourteens had been added to the fleet.

The Vancouver-Seattle service was continued and airmail and express shipments were carried between Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver, and between Lethbridge and Edmonton. Stations with complete radio facilities were opened.

In February, 1939, mail and express service to Calgary was established. Regular airmail and express night schedules went into effect in March between Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver. A month later, passenger service began on this route and also between Lethbridge, Calgary and Edmonton. Airmail service on a daylight schedule was extended to Moncton in November. The Electras were sold and six Lockheed Fourteens were acquired, bringing the fleet up to 15.

Early in 1940, airmail and passenger service to Moncton was in operation. Airmail and express were carried between Toronto, London and Windsor, beginning in July, and in August passenger service was established. A second daily flight went into effect on the transcontinental route and another daily trip was added between Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal. Six Lockheed Lodestars were purchased that year.

Service was extended to Halifax in April, 1941, and the following month the service between Toronto and New York was put into operation. In 1941 the service between Vancouver and Seattle was discontinued.

EXPAND EASTWARD
In May, 1942, service was extended to Sydney, N.S., and to St. John's, Newfoundland. With the addition of six Lockheed Lodestars the fleet was increased to 24.

The Lockheed Fourteens were improved by installation of twin-row Wasp engines of 1,200 horsepower, replacing Hornet engines of 850 horsepower. New schedules brought into effect in November brought the daily mileage to 22,670, or 8,250,000 miles a year.

TCA crews participated in trans-Atlantic flights in 1942. The year saw the highest passenger load factor and few records for volume of mail and express carried.

Decision to extend the transcontinental service to Victoria was reached at the beginning of this year.

NOW!

T.C.A. TRANSCONTINENTAL SERVICE

Victoria has been added to Trans-Canada's transcontinental and international air route to provide Vancouver Island with through direct air mail, passenger and express service to and from other sections of the Dominion of Canada.

Spanning North America twice each day from Newfoundland, Halifax and New York on the Atlantic seaboard, to Vancouver and Victoria on the Pacific—serving a score of important Canadian centres en route—the National Air Line renders an ever broadening essential service to Canada in war and in peace.

U.S. Air Transport Grows Enormously; Still More Needed

WASHINGTON (AP) — This country's enormous wartime expansion of air transport was described glowingly today by the U.S. Office of War Information, which warned, however, against "extravagant" claims for the peacetime role of aerial freight-hauling.

In a long review of the activities of the U.S. army and navy air transport services, the O.W.I. said:

"The great wartime expansion of air transport is being accompanied by a vast, world-wide development of airways, communications and airports which will be available to serve civilian air transport after the war."

"Exclusive of certain military airbases, there will be about 865 major airports in the United States by the end of 1943, all of them with paved runways of 3,500 feet or more, capable of handling the largest craft. In addition, there are well over 2,000 lesser fields."

The O.W.I. said that in 1943—when total aviation production will be $20,100,000,000—more than one-fourth of all twin-engine and four-engine aircraft will be transports.

STILL MORE NEEDED

In a forecast of things to come the O.W.I. gave this time table for air trips between Washington, D.C., and other cities by shortest routes:

"Less than 7 hours to Mexico City; less than 8 to Panama City; 8 or 9 to Seattle; 10 or 11 to London or Paris; 24 to Shanghai; 16 to Moscow; 26 to Chungking, China, or Cape of Good Hope."

The O.W.I. said that by 1945 it is expected transport planes in the 100,000 to 120,000-pound class will be flying in quantity.

Up 6,000 Per Cent

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two years ago today the first United States-manufactured plane was ferried to the R.A.F. ferry command in Canada under lease-lend. Today, Col. William H. Turner, commanding the ferrying division of the army transport command, announced that in the first five months of 1943 the division had increased its foreign deliveries over the comparable period of 1942 by 6,000 per cent.

Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the army air force, told the graduating class at West Point last week that May deliveries alone across the Atlantic and Pacific oceans aggregated 1,800.

Jap Burma Centres Bombed By Allies

NEW DELHI (CP) — The R.A.F. attacked Kalemoy, bombing troop positions, during the weekend, and U.S. planes hit at Mandalay and other points.

Communications from both forces said all planes returned safely.

At Mandalay damage was done to tracks and trains. Ferry ships at Sagang were hit. Tracks and trains were bombed at Ywataung and Monywa.

Japanese oil was raided at Chauk. A water filtration plant, a large building nearby and oil works were declared hit. A large barge was left sinking.

New Fire Starts In Salvaged Ship

HALIFAX (CP) — Fire broke out today aboard an ocean freighter raised a few months ago from the bottom of Halifax harbor after she had sunk while afire about two years ago.

A fire boat brought the new blaze under control in about a half hour after it was discovered. Cause of the fire was not known immediately.

The vessel was swept by flames in February, 1942, as she lay at a pier here. The weight of water poured into her hull to quench the flames caused her to roll over and sink. The freighter was raised last January and was undergoing repairs when the new fire started.

Commando Writer Visits Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — The United Nations "must mount a successful combined operation to win the war," in the opinion of Hilary St. George Saunders, official recorder of the commandos, whose "Combined Operations" issued anonymously as a government report, is a current best-seller.

"The invasion, when it comes, must be achieved by co-ordination of sea, land and air power," he said today after arriving in Toronto in the course of a north American tour. Possibilities of this type of operation on a big scale had been demonstrated by the invasion of north Africa.

Mr. Saunders, through witnessing embarkations, talking to troops on their return and reading everything from newspaper stories to the secret reports of intelligence officers, has recorded the raids of Combined Operations from their beginning to Dieppe.

Asked today whether Dieppe was a success or a failure, he said:

"I cannot attempt to interpret Dieppe. I am not a military expert. The facts are there, and it is up to the reader to draw his own conclusion. I don't think you can describe any action that achieved what it did as a failure, but on the other hand to say it was a 100 per cent success would be equally exaggerated."

Mr. Saunders has been in the United States a month, telling the story of Combined Operations and of his work. As a sidelight to illustrate an indirect effort of the job done by the raiders, he told of 22,000 men in New Orleans, engaged in building landing craft, who after hearing the story of St. Nazaire undertook to contribute an extra half-hour of work weekly without pay—for the duration of the war.

New Mine Crisis Looms; Operators Report Dissent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bulk of John L. Lewis' 500,000 coal miners trudged back to their pits today under a fourth truce agreement even as indications appeared of a new crisis in the prolonged dispute—reports of dissension among the southern United States operators.

Hours after the men had returned to work—with a few exceptions—the U.M.W. chieftain and his aides closeted themselves briefly with operator representatives to discuss the next step in their interrupted negotiations.

A few minutes after the group had retired behind closed doors, Lewis emerged to report the miners had recessed to permit an operators' caucus. He said the negotiators had received no word from the War Labor Board, which last week ordered the contract talks halted until actual production had been resumed, and added he had no other comment.

The W.L.B. also was silent, but a board official who declined use of his name said he doubted the board would issue formal instructions for a resumption of negotiations. As he put it, "the miners and operators would be smart just to go ahead" without waiting for a W.L.B. nod.

The operators were reported divided on the question of whether to seek a new contract at the conference table or ask for adjudication of all issues by the War Labor Board.

Later in the morning formal negotiations were resumed by a sub-committee composed of Charles O'Neill and former Senator Edward Burke, representing the northern and southern operators, respectively, and Lewis and Percy Tetlow of the United Mine Workers.

Laundry Went Traveling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Capt. Michael Patrick O'Leary's laundry finally has been delivered. That may not sound important, but—

His laundry went out at Long Beach, Calif. It was forwarded to Hickam Field in Hawaii. Then to Cairo. Then to North Africa. Then to London.

It caught up with O'Leary, army air transport command pilot, in Iceland on an exceptionally chilly day.

He opened the bundle and found summer clothes!

Refused to Give Up

AN EASTERN CANADIAN PORT (CP) — How their crippled ship, victim of a 30-minute dive-bomber attack, was nursed into port with five feet of water flooded her engine room, hull plates stripped from its rivets and a 15-degree list to starboard, was related today by two veterans of the R.C.N.V.R.

The two, said naval headquarters in a press dispatch, were Leading Seamen Stanley Combes of Edmonton, and Stan Seiban of Saskatoon, members of a crew which "refused to give up." They were serving as gunners aboard a defensively-equipped merchant ship. Both had served with the R.C.N.V.R. since 1936, and were called up at the beginning of the present war.

After the attack, their ship labored through Atlantic swells for 25 hours before assistance could be given her. A British destroyer came to her rescue and collision mats were placed over the gaps.

Short Wood Soon From Honeymoon Bay

Shipment to the city of an additional 50 cords of wood a day from the Honeymoon Bay mill can be expected about June 22, F. W. Wilfert, production officer for the wood fuel administrator, said today.

His statement followed a visit to the mill last week-end arising from City Council complaints wood was being burned there which could be sent to this city.

The new millwright, C. E. Helin, now in charge of mill construction there, is well known as a capable constructional millwright and knows the business well, Mr. Wilfert said.

"He has definitely assured the fuel administration that short wood will be in production at the mill on or before June 22, provided no unexpected difficulties arise," Mr. Wilfert reported. "This will produce approximately 50 cords daily."

The mill at present is sending long wood into the city for fuel.

4 Burned to Death

TACOMA (AP) — Four members of the Howard Mills family were burned to death Sunday night when their home was destroyed by fire after the explosion of a stove. The dead: Ella May, 14, and a son, David, 11.

Household fabrics, including clothing, should be stored during the summer at room temperature or lower; the ordinary attic is too hot.

Upward Trend

TORONTO (CP) — Stocks were in demand throughout today's Toronto exchange session and prices advanced in all index groups on volume of 800,000 shares or better.

The base metals showed soft spots in the final period, but other groups finished around top price levels for the day.

Nearly all the industrial groups finished on top, and gains widened to a point or more in the list of higher-price issues.

The golds gained strength. Home Oil traded better than 10,000 shares and firmed 5 cents to 3.40, and small gains came out for Calgary and Edmonton. Anglo-Canadian, Brown, and Alberta Consolidated, Okalta and Davies weakened.

Salvage Corps Busy, More Helpers Needed

Victoria branch of the Salvage Corps of B.C. dispatched during April, 308,960 pounds of scrap worth $2,704, according to the monthly bulletin.

Metals continued to bring in the most money. There were 114,425 pounds, worth $736. Paper, 135,241 pounds, brought in $398; 7,040 pounds of fat, $479; 13,207 pounds of rags, $407; 31,860 pounds of bottles, $344.

The "British Bundles" branch of the corps reports that 29 cases of clothing have arrived in England for aid sufferers. A Mrs. Dunbar, thanking the corps, writes: "There have been many short, sharp raids in the south-east recently and there is a constant demand for clothing of all types."

Since February the corps has handled more than $1,000 worth of kitchen fat, placed in 40-gallon steel drums.

The corps now gladly accepts old umbrellas (frames must be in good condition) and coat hangers. Crockery, chinaware, pop-bottle caps, tin cans or bones can not be used, although the bones will be accepted by meat merchants.

"We badly need more truck drivers, swamper and helpers for the Cloverdale depot," says the bulletin.

City Dog Revenue Shows Increase

Dogs, over which controversy has risen in recent weeks, have provided approximately $600 more to the city treasury so far this year than during the first five months of 1942, according to figures compiled by the collector of licenses.

Up to May 31 licenses had been collected for approximately 1,900 dogs against 1,600 for the similar period in 1942.

Charges range from $2 for male dogs and $5 for females to $10 for kennels of five dogs or more.

Prosecutions will be instituted shortly against owners who have not yet secured current year's licenses.

By far the larger number of Victoria's licensed dogs are cross-breeds, with the spaniel element predominating. Next in line come wire-haired terriers with smooth-haired fox terriers a close third.

The increase in collections so far this year is not so much indication of a higher percentage collection as of an increase in the dog population, the city official reported.

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

"These vegetables from our garden are wonderful, dear, just wonderful! But if the war lasts much longer I wonder if we'd have room in our yard for a little livestock?"

Dorothy Dix:

Dear Miss Dix: I am engaged to a nice girl with whom I am very much in love. I am about to enter the service and she wants me to marry her before I go. Would you advise me to do so, or to wait until after the war and take a chance of losing her? If she really loves me, will she wait for me? What should I expect of her if I leave her without, getting married?

SOLDIER.

BETTER FOR WEDDING BELLS AFTER WAR

Answer: I think it is far better for you to wait until after the war is over to marry. There are many good reasons why this is the case. One is that you are going away where you will have many experiences; where you will be thrown in contact with many different kinds of people; where you will see and hear many strange things, and this will alter your character and point of view in many ways.

You are now a young, inexperienced boy. You will come back a mature, disciplined man who has seen life and death and been tested in every way. The girl also will change, and when you meet again after the war you may not want each other. Or, after having seen other women, you may still admire her and love her better.

For another reason you will be much happier without having to worry over her if you are engaged to her than you would if you were married to her. You won't feel so responsible for her, and you will know that she is safe with her people and among her old friends, and that she is able to go on with her job. A soldier has plenty of troubles without adding matrimonial ones to them.

And, for another thing, when you come back from the war you will have to make a new start in life, and it will be easier to do this if you do not have a wife to support.

If the girl loves you, she will be true to you. I do not think you should make her promise not to go out at all with other boys while you are gone. It will be dull and lonesome just sitting up waiting for you to come back. But certainly she should have no flirtations with them.

About 650,000 Full-Blooded Aztecs Now Live In Mexico

During my travels I have seen many persons carry things on their heads, but nowhere else have I ever seen such experts in this field as in Mexico. While I was living in Mexico City, it was a common, everyday thing to see men on bicycles with large baskets on their heads.

The traffic of Mexico's capital is heavy, and it is a problem for a person to keep out of the way of motor cars when he has nothing else to do but ride a bicycle. Think how much harder it must be to carry a basket on the head while holding the handlebars!

I did not measure any of the baskets, but judged them to be from two and a half feet to three feet long. One day I watched a man as he took a basket from his head after alighting from his bicycle. He placed the basket on a counter, and I noticed that it was filled with bakery goods—rolls, cakes and so on.

Most Mexicans who are experts in carrying things on their heads are Indians or "mestizos." A mestizo is a person of mixed blood, being partly of Indian descent and partly white.

Late census figures show that Mexico has close to 20,000,000 people. Of this number, it is estimated that about 3,000,000 are of full-blooded Spanish descent, and that 6,000,000 are full-blooded Indians. The rest are mestizos.

When white men first reached this continent, they did not find the Indians "all alike." Tribes of Mexico had different customs than those in the United States and Canada.

The leading tribesmen of Mexico were the Aztecs. Their chief, Montezuma II, ruled as a kind of emperor when the Spaniards arrived in the country.

The Aztecs were well advanced in some of the arts. They used copper tools and had a system of "picture writing." Today there are about 650,000 full-blooded Aztecs in Mexico.

Besides the Aztecs Mexico has Indians of several other kinds. These include about 400,000 of the famous Mayas, 350,000 Zapotecs and 40,000 Tarascans.

Many of the Tarascan Indians live around the Lake of Patzcuaro, and that lake is famed for its "winged boats." The boats are manned by fishermen who go forth to capture fish in nets. Resting on the boat when not in use, the nets may remind a person of the delicate wings of an insect.

"NERVES" SHE CALLED IT

Losing interest—losing friends—she never went out any more—always too tired. "Nerves," she thought—but it was her kidneys, the filters of her blood, that needed attention. Delay meant danger. She took Dodd's Kidney Pills at once. The improved action of her kidneys helped to clear away blood impurities and excess acids. Fatigue, headache, backache, lack of energy, disappeared.

WANT TO SELL YOUR HOUSE?

Right now it's an easy matter to sell a desirable house. Real estate agents are having calls for all kinds of property.

If you want to sell, look over the "Real Estate" ads in today's Classified section and list your property with an advertising agent.

Three reasons for selling now:

1. Your house is needed for someone else.
2. You can put the money into War Bonds.
3. People are earning more money and you can get a good price.

How Accurate Bombing Spared City of Tunis

Precision bombing by Allied airmen served a double purpose in the campaign for Tunis—it mercifully preserved the city itself while the destructive force was concentrated on true military objectives. The upper picture, taken after Allied troops marched in, shows business and residential buildings unscathed. But along the waterfront (below) was a scene of almost complete desolation. Docks, warehouses and other installations were blasted, and many acres had been cleared of debris before Tunis was captured.

Here is another example of the way in which Johns-Manville peacetime research in the development of asbestos products is now contributing to the war effort—and helping to speed our Victory. Today, more than 1,000 Johns-Manville products are "on-active service" in the Navy, Army and Air Force.

encing the same shortages on the mainland and up-land," said one dealer. The increased population due to army, navy and air force, plus the reduced quota was considered to be responsible for the shortages here.
